- 2023, October — Department of Energy Employees at the Nevada National Security Site [formerly the Nevada Test Site] in Nye County, Nevada, detect four unauthorized drones over a period of three days. Employees spot a fifth drone. Government officials say they do not know the drone operators or why they were flying over a nuclear-sensitive area. A spokeswoman says the facility has since upgraded a system to detect and counter drones. - 2023, October 6 — Peter Davenport of the National UFO Reporting Center shares some statistics with USA Today that NUFORC has collected for the year 2022. Descriptions of UFOs from the center's data range from common shapes like circles, ovals, triangles, and diamonds to images like a light, orb, flash, disk, or fireball. The most common description is an unidentified light in the sky. He says that NUFORC receives about 100 reports every month; the most reports come from California, the most populated state in the US. - 2023, October 18 — The Office of the Director of National Intelligence issues its unclassified annual report on UAP written by the All-domain Anomaly Resolution Office. The report mentions that AARO has received 274 new reports in the last eight months, suggesting a rate of more than 30 reports per month. It summarizes its review of a total of 291 cases by saying that none were "positively attributable" to foreign adversaries and that a high percentage of them lack sufficient detail to identify or resolve. It mentions only one maritime case and no UAP space cases, and it refers to a "strong but shifting collection bias" in "restricted military airspace." However, AARO Director Sean Kirkpatrick mentions in a CNN interview that about 2%–4% of these cases are "anomalous." (US Office of the Director of National Intelligence, Fiscal Year 2023 Consolidated Annual Report on Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena, October 2023, October 17, 2023; "First on CNN: US Is Receiving Dozens of UFO Reports a Month, Senior Pentagon Official Tells CNN," CNN, October 18, 2023; Chris Rutkowski, "AARO and CUS and UAP," Ufology Research, October 19, 2023; Christopher Mellon, "Takeaways & Questions Regarding the October 23 AARO/DNI UAP Report," Christopher's Substack, October 21, 2023; Ghaleb Krame, Vlado Vivoda, and Tamir Bar-On, "Casting Ambiguity: Securitization of Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena in the United States," Alternatives: Global, Local, Political, May 29, 2024; Clark IV 12–13)
- 2023, October 20 — 1:50 a.m.–2:20 a.m. A bright light appears and disappears from the southeast off the coast of Necochea, Buenos Aires province, Argentina, and is replaced by two or three additional objects in a clear sky. Odd lights have regularly been seen in this location since September 29. - 2023, October 27 — US Reps. Tim Burchett (R-Tenn.), Jared Moskowitz (D-Fla.), and Anna Paulina Luna (R-Fla.) meet with representatives of the Department of Defense’s Office of the Inspector General in a Sensitive Compartmented Information Facility (SCIF) in order to obtain confirmation of the information provided by David Grusch, but they return without learning anything new. Burchett thinks that the representatives themselves are unaware of the information sought by Congress. (Baptiste Friscourt, “Classified Briefing: Congressional Frustration over Lack of UFO Disclosure,” UAP Check, October 27, 2023)
- 2023, October 31 — The All-domain Anomaly Resolution Office adds a secure portal for current or former US government, military, and contractor personal to report UAP sightings. AARO emphasizes that information should only be provided by those who have personal knowledge of US government programs related to UAP: “These reports will be used to inform AARO’s congressionally directed Historical Record Report.” At a press conference announcing the new UAP reporting portal, AARO director Sean Kirkpatrick says that his office has access to surveillance satellite footage, but he has not “seen any of them that have collected [imagery] of a UAP,” although they have detected balloons. The agency is working to declassify the imagery collected during the shootdowns of three balloons in February 2023. - 2023, November — The US Space Force’s Space Training and Readiness Command (STARCOM), tasked with educating and training US Space Force personnel, releases a document titled Space Doctrine Publication 3-100, Space Domain Awareness that outlines what space domain awareness is. The document describes the need to maintain a safe environment by monitoring and tracking such objects as space debris, the ever-growing number of commercial satellites, spacecraft operated by adversaries, and “the hazards posed by the space environment and natural debris,” such as meteoroids or solar flares. - 2023, November 9 — During a Security Committee meeting of the Japanese House of Representatives, MP Yoshiharu Asakawa inquires about the government’s official involvement with UFOs. Defense Minister Minoru Kihara confirms that Japan is cooperating with AARO in the United States by collecting and analyzing relevant information and that Japan treats the phenomenon as a matter of national security. He also said there is an area over the Sea of Japan where UAP observations frequently occur. - 2023, November 18 — 11:02 a.m. Omni Air International Flight 1169 en route from Honolulu, Hawaii, to Fort Worth, Texas, encounters “several bright, erratic lights directly in front and above their flight path” as it approaches Los Angeles International Airport in California. Concerned about a possible collision, Flight 1169 requests “deviations 20 degrees left to avoid the lights.” Once granted by Air Traffic Control, the plane shifts course and then continues on its way without further incident. The flight returns to its original course, noting that the lights are “80 miles off their right side” and approximately over the El Toro FAA radio station, east of Costa Mesa, California. The FAA entry emphasizes that it is “not a UAS [unmanned aerial system] report.” (Dustin Slaughter, “As Congress Introduces New UAP Reporting Legislation for Pilots, FAA Reports Continue to Detail Flight Safety Incidents Posed by UAP,” The UAP Register, February 10, 2024)
- 2023, November 18 — 7:00 p.m. A large, whitish ball of light is seen in southwestern France, northern Spain, Portugal, and Italy. It rises into the sky then disappears, leaving a dense halo of milky smoke. The official explanation arrives more than an hour later when the French Minister of the Armed Forces explains that the reports are due to the test launch of an M51.3 submarine-launched ballistic missile from the Bay of Biscay. Paolo Toselli notes that although the online media continue to report people attributing the display to UFOs and aliens, “this isn’t reflected in the visual first-hand testimonies.” (Paolo Toselli, “About Missiles and UFOs,” UAP Check, December 22, 2023)
- 2023, November 19 — AARO again contacts whistleblower David Grusch, assuring him of its authorization to handle classified material and inviting him to discuss his claims, but he declines. (John Greenwald, “FOIA Documents Reveal AARO’s Authorized and Repeated Attempts to Engage with David Grusch,” The Black Vault, April 18, 2024)
- 2023, November 19 — 2:30 p.m. Flights are suspended for nearly 4 hours at the Bir Tikendrajit International Airport in Imphal, Manipur, India, after many people report an unidentified white object slowly moving southward then hovering at a high altitude above the facility. Airport manager Chipemmi Keishing says he doesn’t know whether the object is a drone, a UFO, or something else. The object moves away to the west at 4:05 p.m., just before sunset. - 2023, November 19 — 5:15 p.m. A man driving along Neff Road in Harrisonburg, Virginia, sees a silent, tube-shaped object on November 19, 2023, that disappears before he can stop his car to take a photo. He resumes driving, and

- sees two more objects, one below the other, but again they disappear before he can pull over. (Jacob Fife, “Did I Really See What I Thought I Did?” Harrisonburg Man Shares UFO Sighting,” WHSV-TV, Harrisonburg, Virginia, November 22, 2023)
- 2023, November 27 — The Dutch civilian group, UAP Coalition Netherlands, submits a proposal to the European Union Commission to extend the EU Space Law to include the search and detection of UAP through the EU Space Surveillance and Tracking Service and the Near-Earth Objects service. (Jochen Ickinger, “UAP in the European Parliament, Part 1,” UAP Check, February 27, 2024)
- 2023, November 28 — Republican infighting threatens the bipartisan UAP Disclosure Act of 2023 as an amendment to the FY 2024 National Defense Authorization Act. Former Fox News host Tucker Carlson says on his show on X that “Congressman Mike Rogers [R-Ala.], who is the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, and Congressman Mike Turner [R-Ohio], who is chairman of the House Intel Committee ... Both of these men have been instructed to violate, in letter and in spirit, federal law, and to hide the truth about UFOs.” Carlson, speaking to pro-disclosure Tim Burchett (R-Tenn.), also mentions that Speaker of the House Mike Johnson (R-La.) and Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell (R-Ky.) are also invested in shutting down the proposal. Lawyer Daniel Sheehan, who is president of the New Paradigm Institute, reveals in early December that the fifth lawmaker opposed to disclosure is Sen. Roger Wicker (R-Miss.), and all five are under pressure from private defense contractors and the intelligence community. Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer’s (D-N.Y.) amendment has already been approved by the Senate, but is up for debate in the House. Meanwhile, the Pentagon provides a 33-page, line by line rewrite of the Senate version to congressional negotiators that retains a modified provision for eminent domain over “recovered technologies.” (Christopher Sharp, “Black Friday: Republican Leadership Takes Axe to UFO Transparency Legislation,” Liberation Times, November 24, 2023; Micah Hanks, “UAP Disclosure Act Receives Pushback from Lawmakers on Capitol Hill, As Bipartisan Fight for Transparency Continues,” The Debrief, November 27, 2023; “Is Congress Suppressing UAP Disclosures? - 2023, November 28 — The tabloid Daily Mail (UK) reports that the CIA’s Office of Global Access, established in 2003, is responsible for the retrieval of crashed UFOs. Three sources, all anonymous, tell the newspaper that the CIA sends military special forces teams to pick up the material, which is then handed over to private aerospace companies for examination and possible retroengineering. News Nation’s [Ross Coulthart thinks the report is credible, despite the lack of any direct evidence. - 2023, November 28 — The National UFO Historical Records Center (NUFOHRC) in Rio Rancho, New Mexico, acquires the case files and archival records of the Aerial Phenomena Research Organization (APRO), a civilian group headed by Jim and Coral Lorenzen from 1952 to the 1980s. These records have for many years been in private hands and unavailable to UFO researchers. NUFOHRC Executive Director David Marler states that the APRO collection consists of 13 file cabinets and some 60 boxes. NUFOHRC has long-term plans to digitize these files, along with those of the Center for UFO Studies and the National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena, which are already housed there. (“Air Force Awards UTEP Grant to Safeguard Assets in Space,” University of Texas at El Paso Newsfeed, November 30, 2023)
- 2023, December 1 — Sean Kirkpatrick spends his last day in the AARO office, completing the compilation of the first volume of official interviews with UAP observers for the congressionally mandated Historical Review Report. Deputy Director Timothy A. Phillips begins serving as acting director. (Brandi Vincent, “Pentagon’s UAP Investigation Chief to Depart Dec. 1,” DefenseScoop, November 30, 2023)
- 2023, December 2 — 11:04 p.m. Air Traffic Control staff at Great Falls International Airport, Montana, spots more than five “lit objects flying in a circular pattern,” according to an FAA report. “Lights changed in intensity consistent with circling or holding pattern at different altitudes.” While some features of the sighting are consistent with a Starlink launch, additional details are not: “Movement not always circular in pattern, but at times appeared to form up in formation or move to/from the area.” Security personnel at Malmstrom Air Force Base, located 20 miles east, also witness the objects. (Dustin Slaughter, “As Congress Introduces New UAP Reporting Legislation for Pilots, FAA Reports Continue to Detail Flight Safety Incidents Posed by UAP.” The UAP Register, February 10, 2024)

- 2023, December 3 — 4:07 a.m. A Société Air France Airbus is flying east near Toronto, Ontario, when the crew reports an object with 6 or 7 lights ahead and above its position. (CADORS Report, no. 2023O3732, December 12, 2023)
- 2023, December 6 — A House–Senate conference committee strips many provisions included by the Senate in its UAP Disclosure Act (the Schumer-Rounds Amendment) to the National Defense Authorization Act, including the establishment of a nine-person independent review panel to select UAP records for public release, new whistleblower and witness protections, amnesty for defense contractors and others in possession of UAP-related material, and a provision for eminent domain of UAP material held by private individuals or companies. It also prohibits defense spending on any UAP programs unless the Secretary of Defense approves a specific AARO recommendation and provides Congress with the details. Some suspect that the CIA, Lockheed Martin, and other defense contractors have succeeded in pressuring key House and Senate members to withdraw their approval for disclosure, despite widespread bipartisan support. - 2023, December 6 — 6:00 p.m. A swarm of unidentified drones is detected above Langley Air Force Base in Hampton, Virginia, in the first of multiple incursions through December 23. The number of UAS (uncrewed aerial systems) varies, and they range in both size and configuration. The drones fly in a pattern: one or two fixed-wing drones positioned more than 100 feet in the air and smaller quadcopters, the size of 20-pound commercial drones, often below and flying slower. Occasionally, they hover. They appear first to the north, traverse the base, then continue south beyond the reach of radar. They repeat the pattern and disappear, typically by midnight. A spokesperson says that “None of the incursions appeared to exhibit hostile intent but anything flying in our restricted airspace can pose a threat to flight safety.” The situation prompts a serious response and causes significant reverberations around the US military. Plane spotters using online flight-tracking software notice unusual activity above Langley during the month, including what look like USAF F-16 fighters conducting combat air patrols supported by aerial refueling tankers over parts of southeastern Virginia around December 13 and one of NASA’s WB-57F aircraft flying circular orbits above Langley on December 18. Sen. Tim Kaine (D-Va.) later remarks that “how to do base protection against UAS threats domestically [in US residential areas] is not as developed as it is in theaters of war.” (Joseph Trevithick and Tyler Rogoway, “Mysterious Drones Swarmed Langley AFB for Weeks.” The War Zone, March 15, 2024; Matt Laslo, “Tim Kaine on If Gov’t Know What Flew over Langley.” Ask a Pol, March 26, 2024; “Langley AFB Event Video.” Reddit, March 2024; Marik Von Rennenkampff, “Drones or UFOs? - 2023, December 13 — After being stripped of much of the expansive language incorporated in the UAP Disclosure Act amendment, the US Senate approves the final, unamendable version of H.R. 2670, the 2024 National Defense Authorization Act, by a vote of 87–13. The US House passes it the following day by a vote of 310–118. The bill directs the National Archives to collect government documents about “unidentified anomalous phenomena, technologies of unknown origin, and nonhuman intelligence.” Any records not officially disclosed must be made public within 25 years of their creation, unless the president determines that they must remain classified for national security reasons. Sen. [Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.) complains that the US government “has gathered a great deal of information about UAPs over many decades but has refused to share it with the American people. That is wrong, and additionally it breeds mistrust.” Sen. Mike Rounds (R-S.Dak.) adds, “There is, we believe, information and data that has been collected by more than just the Department of Defense, but by other agencies of the federal government as well.” These drone incidents are not reported to the AARO office. Brewer](#) from the University of Utah’s Department of Geography, publish a paper in which they examine UFO reports gathered by the National UFO Reporting Center from 2001 to 2010 without assessing their value and find a greater concentration of reports per population in the western US, the far northeastern US, and the areas around Evansville, Indiana, and Washington, DC. They admit their study is based on a “noisy, crowdsourced dataset.” (R. M. Medina, S. C. Brewer, and S. M. - 2023, December 14 — 7:30 p.m. Jonathan Butner is stargazing on the west bank of the James River in Virginia when he notices a blinking red and orange light above Langley Air Force Base. A second follows it, then others follow. He begins to see four or five lights in a row. Eventually he spots some 40 “car-sized” spherical lights, blinking reddish-orange, above Langley. They are traveling at the same height that a Cessna aircraft might fly. They are traveling in the same flight path, but some of them stop and hover when they are passing above the base. Langley responds by shining large searchlights at the objects. Soon a large “saucer-shaped” object approaches at a lower altitude from the south, passes by Newport News, and circles near Surry Nuclear Power Plant. Its semi-circular base is glowing orange and it has three glowing lights on top and a white light on its edge that is blinking rapidly and erratically. Butner thinks it is observing the smaller lights. He takes at least four videos of the lights. - 2024, January — A group called UAP Sweden announces a European Crash Retrieval Initiative that aims to map, locate, and possibly visit credible UFO/UAP crash sites in Europe. (“European Crash Retrieval Initiative”)

- 2024, January — The Centro de Identificación Aeroespacial of the Argentine Air Force presents an analysis of 82 UFO cases that were reported in 2023, explaining them all as having natural causes. (Rubén Lianza, Informe de Resolución de Casos Recibidos en 2023, Centro de Identificación Aeroespacial, 2024)
- 2024, January 4 — In an apparent extension of the December drone incidents above Langley, an F-22 Raptor stealth fighter encounters a small drone above or near Joint Base Langley-Eustis near Hampton, Virginia, forcing it to deviate from its course to avoid a collision. (Kyle Warfel and Christopher Sharp, “F-22 Near Miss with Unidentified Object Outside Langley AFB,” Liberation Times, October 24, 2024)
- 2024, January 5 — The US Office of the Director of National Intelligence denies The Black Vault’s request for records related to UFO whistleblower David Grusch from May 2022 when he submitted a “Disclosure of Urgent Concerns” to the Inspector General for the Intelligence Community. A subsequent appeal is also denied on February 21. - 2024, January 12 — Morning. Legislators on the House Oversight Committee receive a closed-door briefing on UAPs from Thomas Monheim, inspector general of the intelligence community. Many emerging from the meeting say they remain frustrated in their attempts to get more information on David Grusch's sensational claims. However, Rep. Robert Garcia (D-Calif.) says that “it’s reasonable to say that everyone that was in the room received probably new information.” Rep. Tim Burchett (R-Tenn.) says the meeting provided “some validity to what’s been said.” (“Lawmakers Investigating UAPs, or UFOs, Remain Frustrated after Closed-Door Briefing with Government Watchdog,” CBS News, January 12, 2024; “U.F.O.s Remain a Mystery to Lawmakers after Classified Briefing,” New York Times, January 12, 2024; “Burchett: Classified UFO Briefing ‘Energized’ Congress on Issue, More Hearings Expected,” The Hill, January 13, 2024)
- 2024, January 12 — Scientists from the Instituto de Medicina Legal y Ciencias Forenses del Ministerio Público in Lima, Peru, present the results of their analysis of alleged humanoid mummies confiscated at the Jorge Chávez International Airport in Lima in October 2023 when they were in the process of being shipped to Mexico. Forensic archaeologist Flavio Estrada Moreno demonstrates that the mummies seized were constructs made up of composite bones from birds and mammals and assembled with metal plates and dressed in miniature human clothes. - 2024, January 19 — Sean Kirkpatrick asserts that his “Historical Record Report, Volume 1” is being prepared for delivery to Congress and the public, although it is unclear whether he is submitting it to the Defense Office of Prepublication and Security Review. He also says that allegations of a crash/retrieval cover-up that “captured the attention of policymakers and the public, driving legislative battles and dominating the public narrative” are largely the product of former AATIP personnel, namely associates of Robert Bigelow. He also states that “none of the conspiracy-minded whistleblowers” have come to AARO to provide their evidence. However, David Grusch says he was in email contact with AARO in October 2023, but was concerned about the way the office is handling classified compartmentalized information. - 2024, January 24 — The Office of the Department of Defense Inspector General releases an unclassified summary of its August 15, 2023, report on the DoD’s actions regarding UAP. It reveals that different components within the DoD have developed varied processes for the collection, analysis, and identification of UAP incidents. This lack of uniformity and integration poses potential risks to national security and military forces. The summary states, “the DoD’s lack of a comprehensive, coordinated approach to address UAP may pose a threat to military forces and national security.” (“Unclassified Summary of Report No. DODIG-2023-109, ‘Evaluation of the DoD’s Actions Regarding Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena,’ August 15, 2023,” Department of Defense Office of Inspector General, January 24, 2024; John Greenewald, “IG’s Evaluation of the DoD’s Actions Regarding Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena Finally Released,” The Black Vault, January 25, 2024; Howard Altman, “Watchdog Says Pentagon’s UAP Response May Pose Threat to National Security,” The Drive: The War Zone, January 25, 2024)
- 2024, January 30 — Larry J. Hancock, Ian M. Porritt, and other researchers associated with the Scientific Coalition of UAP Studies publish a third paper on reported UFO activities from 1945 to 1975, this time focusing on nine specific characteristics, including interactive flight, interference with military weapons systems, intrusions at military installations, and observed occupants. Their earlier two papers in 2023 focused on incidents in the context of atomic weapons development and deployment. (Larry J. Hancock, Ian M. - 2024, February 7 — 3:40 a.m. Pilots of a Cargojet Airways aircraft report seeing a “strange light” approaching them near Lac Laforge, northern Quebec. The light resolves into 3–4 lights, then fades away. (Chris Rutkowski, “UFOs Reported through Transport Canada on March 18–19, 2024,” Ufology Research, March 19, 2024)
- 2024, February 8 — 8:49 p.m. Seven distinct objects are observed over Blainville, Quebec. They are flying east to west and have a “bright full red color.” (Chris Rutkowski, “UFOs Reported through Transport Canada on March 18–19, 2024,” Ufology Research, March 19, 2024)
- 2024, February 9 — 12:23 a.m. The pilot of a Jazz Aviation Bombardier Challenger CL600 business jet flying above Black Rock Mountain, Alberta, notices three bright lights that “grow dimmer.” More lights appear and disappear for the next few minutes. Air traffic control reports no air traffic in the vicinity. (Chris Rutkowski, “UFOs Reported through Transport Canada on March 18–19, 2024,” Ufology Research, March 19, 2024)
- 2024, February 11 — 3:36 a.m. The pilot of an Air Canada airliner observes a formation of 5 lights near Thunder Bay, Ontario, and notifies Canadian Air Defence. (Chris Rutkowski, “UFOs Reported through Transport Canada on March 18–19, 2024,” Ufology Research, March 19, 2024)
- 2024, February 12 — An American Airlines pilot reports a high-speed object with a flashing orange light while flying between Boston, Massachusetts, and Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. An audio recording posted on YouTube allegedly documents the conversation between the unidentified pilot and air traffic control. (“Welcome to UK Pilots Reporting UAP”; “Announcing the Launch of UK Pilots Reporting UAP,” UAP News Center, February 13, 2024)
- 2024, February 16 — 7:04 p.m. Two pilots flying an airliner at 36,000 feet near or off the coast of South Carolina watch a large, triangular object, “roughly the size of a football field,” moving at about 4,000 feet below them. The object has three white lights at its corners and a central red light at its rear, which blinks out after 30 seconds. Neither onboard radar for the Traffic Collision Avoidance System detects it. After about 3 minutes, the object appears to emit a static discharge and vanishes, leaving the pilots to wonder whether it had accelerated or merely gone dark. They capture a few photos of the object on a cellphone. (National UFO Reporting Center, “NUFORC Sighting 180940,” April 27, 2024)
- 2024, February 21 — During an appropriations hearing at the state capitol in Harrisburg, David Padfield, director of the Pennsylvania Emergency Management Agency, admits that UAP have been reported in the vicinity of the state’s nuclear power plants. The statement is in response to a question from State Rep. Ben Waxman (D-Philadelphia) about unmanned aerial systems at nuclear facilities. Padfield says that most UAPs are attributable to astronomical phenomena or military aircraft, but others are not easily explained. - 2024, March — Retired Rear Admiral Timothy Gallaudet publishes a white paper through the SOL Foundation discussing the need for data and research on transmedium and underwater UAP and calling for a multi-agency, scientific, and international effort as a national ocean research priority. (Tim Gallaudet, Beneath the Surface: We May Learn More about UAP by Looking in the Ocean, SOL Foundation, White Paper 1, no. 1, March 2024)

- 2024, March 1 — Canada’s Chief Science Advisor Mona Nemer announces that the first report of the Sky Canada Project will be ready in late summer or early fall. The project, launched in the fall of 2022, has contacted counterparts in the US and France, while also collecting information from Canadian departments and agencies like the Department of National Defence, Transport Canada, the Canadian Space Agency, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. (Canada, “Sky Canada Project”; “Canadian Government’s Top Science Advisor Provides Update on Official UFO Study,” CTV News, March 1, 2024)
- 2024, March 1 — Ash Ellis’s “UK UFO Report 2023” shows that there were 395 sightings in the UK in 2023, a decrease of nearly 100 from 2022. The most commonly reported shapes are “star-like” and “orb,” making up 40% of the total. (Ash Ellis, “UK UFO Report 2023,” March 1, 2024)
- 2024, March 4 — According to a survey from Ufology Research, 570 Canadians officially filed UFO sighting reports in 2023. Chris Rutkowski says that the number of reported sightings is significant. (Ufology Research, Results of the 2023 Canadian UFO Survey, March 4, 2024; “‘Significant’ Number of UFO Sightings Reported in Canada Last Year: Survey,” CTV News Winnipeg, March 4, 2024)
- 2024, March 6 — AARO Acting Director Timothy Phillips holds a briefing on the imminent release of the office’s historical report on UAP. He also mentions that the Pentagon has issued portable UAP detection kits, called the Gremlin System, consisting of an array of sensors that fit inside a protective case, for testing at a “very large range in Texas.” The kits enable personnel to capture real-time data and respond rapidly to UAP incidents as they occur. AARO intends to deploy the system at militarily significant locations or near critical US infrastructure. The AARO team began working on the sensors in October 2023. Phillips adds that AARO is receiving 90–110 UAP reports a month from military sources. Despite repeatedly reiterating commitments to public transparency regarding AARO’s findings, the media engagement is by invitation only, and Pentagon press officials limit attendance to invitees. - 2024, March 8 — The Department of Defense’s All-domain Anomaly Resolution Office releases part one of its long-awaited, congressionally mandated historical review of government UAP investigations to the public. The report, which contains AARO’s findings spanning from 1945 to October 31, 2023, concludes that AARO has found no evidence for claims that the US government and private companies have had access to extraterrestrial technology or that any UFO sighting represents an extraterrestrial craft. “All investigative efforts, at all levels of classification, concluded that most sightings were ordinary objects and phenomena and the result of misidentification,” according to spokesman Maj. Gen. Patrick S. Ryder. The report is widely criticized as error-ridden and unsatisfactory. A second part of the report will allegedly include any findings resulting from interviews and research completed from November 1, 2023, through April 2024. The report spurs the US Congressional UAP Caucus to sign a joint letter to House Speaker Mike Johnson (R-La.) and House Leader Hakeem Jeffries (D-N.Y.), urging the establishment of a Select Subcommittee devoted to investigating UAP. - 2024, March 10 — Early morning. After receiving a report of a pulsating orange blob above Scotts Bottom Road east of Green River, Wyoming, MUFON State Director Richard W. Beckwith heads to an observation point with a video camera, a telephoto lens, and a tripod. The light seems to oscillate back and forth for about 40 minutes, and at one point a smaller white light seems to emerge from it, hover for a few minutes, then disappear. - 2024, March 13 — 3:20 a.m. An observer in Idaho Falls, Idaho, notices a chevron-shaped, dark-gray object with a wide wingspan moving swiftly overhead from north to northeast in an arc, covering the field of view in about one second. The object has seven bright lights in a V-formation. (National UFO Reporting Center, “NUFORC Sighting 180825,” April 27, 2024)
- 2024, March 14 — At a hearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee, US Air Force Gen. Gregory Guillot, head of US Northern Command and NORAD, acknowledges the incursions of drone swarms at Langley AFB in December 2023. He also says that the number of incursions by unmanned aircraft systems (drones) along the US–Mexico border amount to more than 1,000 every month. The activity is linked to drug and human traffickers who are using the technology to monitor their operations. Although he does not think that the incursions currently present a serious defense threat, he is working on ways that NORAD and Northcom can standardize some procedures for dealing with the situation. - 2024, March 15 — 12:30 p.m. A retired Army helicopter mechanic sees a 30-foot-diameter orange sphere come from behind his garage in Springfield, Oregon, and travel upward to the north-northwest. It climbs up another 100 feet in the air to miss his freesees, and it is moving at 50 mph. The object turns from burnt orange to bright white and back to orange. When the sphere is 7–8 miles distant it disappears for a few seconds then reappears. (National UFO Reporting Center, “NUFORC UFO Sighting 180827,” April 27, 2024)
- 2024, March 16 — 7:04 p.m. German astrophotographer Sebastian Voltmer is taking videos of the Moon with a smartphone attached to a telescope on the Spicherer Höhen, a historical landmark on the French side of the border just south of Saarbrücken, Germany. He captures a swiftly moving bright object flitting across the lunar terminator. The high speed is improbable for a satellite or spacecraft, and although it could be a meteor, the International Meteor Organization does not show a match with a known observation. The telescope’s focus range rules out an insect, and a high-flying bird is unlikely because the sun has already set. (“Strange Lunar

- 2024, March 18 — The National Institutes of Health release the results of two five-year investigations into “Anomalous Health Incidents” (Havana syndrome), finding no significant evidence of MRI-detectable brain injury, nor differences in most clinical measures between AHI victims and a control group. It does acknowledge that the victims have real continuing debilitating symptoms associated with fatigue, post-traumatic stress, and depression, which may or may not have been caused by a specific incident. (National Institutes of Health, “NIH Studies Find Severe Symptoms of ‘Havana Syndrome,’ But No Evidence of MRI-Detectable Brain Injury of Biological Abnormalities.” March 18, 2024)

- 2024, March 25 — 2:30 p.m. Spirit Airlines NKS 3380 passenger Michelle Reyes spots a “flying cylinder” from her window as her plane is heading into LaGuardia Airport in New York City. One other passenger also notices the object. She takes a video that she posts on her Facebook page and alerts the Federal Aviation Administration by email. The object appears to be flying very fast and is only on five frames of the video. MUFON investigator Thomas Wertman estimates the object is at 2,500 feet and relatively close to the aircraft. However, Mick West thinks the object is moving slowly and is consistent in appearance with a balloon. - 2024, March 28 — 9:20 a.m. Mike Pritchard and his 13-year-old son are traveling south on Colorado Highway 9 approaching Hoosier Pass when they see a strange metallic object hovering just above the tree line on the left. It is spherical but slightly flattened at top and bottom, and apparently between 9 to 30 feet in diameter. Snowbanks prevent Pritchard from pulling over, so he continues watching it for about 2 minutes while he drives. - 2024, March 28 — 8:30 p.m. A witness living 10 miles south of Superior, Wisconsin, is walking out to her car when she hears a noise and looks to the south. She sees three lights in a triangular shape descending slowly at a low altitude across her property line. The configuration stops and hovers briefly before it moves away and disappears after about one minute. (Ken Hayes, “Why I Believe This UFO Story from Sheila in Wisconsin.” KKCB-FM, Duluth, Minnesota, April 2, 2024)
- 2024, March 28 — Night. Several witnesses in Scottsdale, Arizona, watch and capture on video a blue light moving silently up and down for more than 30 minutes. One video shows it as a streak of blue light, with multiple light blue spots moving across it, which passes in front of a cloud. - 2024, March 31 — Greg Edgreen, a retired Army lieutenant-colonel who ran the Pentagon investigation into Havana Syndrome cases, tells CBS-TV’s 60 Minutes that he thinks US officials have been directly attacked by Russia. White House staff, CIA officers, FBI agents, and military officers and their families are among those who believe they have been wounded by a secret weapon firing a high-energy beam of microwaves or ultrasound in cases officially referred to as “anomalous health incidents.” Each has worked at some point in their careers on Russian affairs. Christo Grozev, a journalist for The Insider, an investigative magazine by Russian exiles, suspects that Russian Intelligence unit 29155 is involved in the attacks, which apparently use a directed acoustic energy weapon. Mark Zaid, the attorney for one of the victims, claims he knows of classified information that contradicts the official assessment by the US intelligence community, which announced in 2023 that it is “very unlikely” that a foreign adversary is responsible for the syndrome cases. - 2024, April 9 — During a meeting of Japan’s House Committee on Security, Rep. Yoshiharu Asakawa raises a question about whether the government is utilizing a UAP tracking platform similar to the Gremlin System used by the US Army. Defense Minister Minoru Kihara replies that he will propose developing such a data collection system. Asakawa asks whether the Japanese military is capable of intercepting UAP over sensitive areas, citing a report of objects near Prime Minister Fumio Kishida’s residence and Yokosuka Air Force Base. (Baptiste Friscourt, “Japanese Minister of Defense Says Responding to Unidentified Objects Is ‘Essential’,” Sentinel News Substack, April 9, 2024)

- 2024, April 12 — 9:56 p.m. Three military witnesses in Navarre, Florida, see a dark, triangle-shaped object, slightly larger than a commercial Airbus, hovering silently at about 8,000 feet. It has 16 lights, some bright, some dimmer, that seem to twinkle like stars. It begins moving slowly out of sight westbound, apparently from the area of USAF Hurlburt Field in Okaloosa County, in about 35 seconds. (Joachim Dekkers, “Dutch Safety Board Accepts UAP Reports.” UAP Check, October 5, 2024)
- 2024, April 22 — 3:35 p.m. A witness southeast of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, notices a silver-white cylinder that appears to be moving north to south in a straight line at about 1,000–2,000 feet over the area of Irwin or Jeanette. He takes one photo of the object with his cellphone as it passes behind some trees. The object has no apparent wings or tail and appears rounded in the front. - 2024, May 16–17 — The National Science Foundation–funded ASTRO ACCEL initiative, dedicated to fostering interdisciplinary research and education in astronomy and related fields, holds a private workshop on “Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena (UAP): A Dialogue on Science, Public Engagement, and Communication” in Virginia, led by Tim Spuck (on temporary leave from Associated Universities Inc.) and Gretchen Stahlman of Florida State University’s School of Information. A diverse group of 26 participants attend, including physical and social scientists, communication and media experts, educators, aviation specialists, and government representatives. According to attendee Salman Hameed of Hampshire College, the workshop’s primary task is to create a common language for discussion of UAPO and assess various types of detection equipment. Some AARO officials also participate. Intelligent cryptoterrestrials, they argue, could be either (in descending order of likelihood) human, hominid or theropod, formerly extraterrestrial or extratemporal, or magical. They emphasize that the hypothesis is most likely false, but still merits investigation. (Tim Lomas, Brendan Case, Michael P. - 2024, June — An international group of academics complete four surveys of the scientific community to find out what scientists think about the likely existence of extraterrestrial life, including basic, complex, and intelligent. 86.6% of the surveyed astrobiologists either "agree" or "strongly agree" that it's likely that extraterrestrial life (of at least a basic kind) exists somewhere in the universe. Scientists who aren't astrobiologists essentially concur, with an overall agreement score of 88.4%. - 2024, June 3 — 6:00 p.m. Air Traffic Control personnel at Stewart International Airport near Newburgh, New York, observe a 50-foot-long object appear about 4 miles to the southwest. It remains hovering at 4,000 feet for 50 minutes before disappearing into the clouds. Airport radar is unable to detect the object. AARO conducts an investigation. (Dustin Slaughter, "Large 'Boomerang-Shaped' Object spotted near New York Airport Remains Unidentified, Pentagon Says," The UAP Register, December 26, 2024)

- 2024, June 5 — 1:00 a.m. Michael Lehmann, along with about a dozen other workers at Red Rocks Amphitheater near Morrison, Colorado, notice a large object hovering silently a few hundred feet above a hogback ridge about half a mile to the north. It looks disc-shaped and metallic, and it appears to be several hundred feet long. It is black in color with three levels of lighted windows. After one worker shines a flashlight at the object, it tilts at an angle and moves "belly-first" to the east, then begins fading away until it is invisible after 30 seconds. (National UFO

- 2024, June 11 — No UAP-related amendment will be voted on by the US House of Representatives during consideration of the FY 2025 National Defense Authorization Act (H.R. 8070) on the House floor. Four UAP-related amendments are submitted to the Rules Committee, but none of them receive Rules Committee approval for floor consideration. Three of the amendments are submitted by Rep. Robert Garcia (D-Calif.), and one by Rep. Tim Burchett (R-Tenn.). Neither of the sponsors appear at an open Rules Committee hearing on June 11 to ask that their amendments be made in order. The non-approved amendments include Garcia's amendment based on the Schumer-Rounds UAP Disclosure Act, a measure that passed the Senate in July 2023 but was subsequently gutted in conference in late 2023, mostly due to Pentagon opposition. Germaneness is also a problem with an amendment by Garcia and Rep. Glenn Grothman (R-Wis.) to require the FAA to establish a UAP-reporting system for civilian aviation personnel. This amendment is based on the Garcia-Grothman Safe Air Space for Americans Act, H.R. 6967. The other disapproved amendments are Burchett's short amendment instructing the President to release all records "relating to" UAP (based on Burchett's UAP Transparency Act, H.R. 8424), and Garcia's amendment to make three obscure and probably superfluous changes to the statutes governing the Pentagon's All-domain Anomaly Resolution Office. "The government systematically overclassifies too much information at great cost to both public trust and national security," the group writes. "At the same time, the government often fails to protect the nation's most important secrets." (D. Dean Johnson, "Ten Senators Press Administration about Over-Classification," X post, June 18, 2024)
- 2024, June 21 — 10:00 p.m. Two witnesses see an extremely bright white and blue beam of light that illuminates their yard in Richland, Texas, stopping directly over their house for less than a second before disappearing like a flashlight being turned off. The light is silent and causes both to feel radiant heat and develop dry mouths and soured taste buds. They feel as if time is standing still and repeatedly question what they have seen. The beam feels like a "scan," and their Bluetooth boombox and cellphone go silent. The next day, the son of one of the witnesses, who was camping nearby, confirms seeing a bright light, with one friend identifying it as a UFO. - 2024, July 2 — 11:15 a.m. A man is driving south on US Highway 119 about one mile south of Smithfield, Pennsylvania, when his radio gets “staticky” and his car stalls out. He notices a large, black, cylindrical object, perhaps 30 feet long and about 300 feet overhead. There is a pale-green haze around one end of the object. It hovers for a few seconds then moves off behind some trees where it alternately hovers and moves east for a few seconds about one mile away. He gets out of his car to take a few pictures with this cellphone, but they only show a dark object with no detail. Another motorist has pulled over after experiencing car trouble and seeing the object. The batteries on both cars appear to be dead, but they start up again after about 30 minutes. - 2024, July 4 — The French agency GEIPAN issues a “Note d’Enquête” describing UAP reports from commercial airline pilots it has investigated since the fall of 2022. The sightings involve moving bright points of light that appear briefly in a limited area of the sky. Observation periods last up to two hours. However, GEIPAN states that the sightings are in fact observations of Starlink satellites illuminated briefly by the sun. - 2024, July 9 — 9:45 p.m. A slow-moving, black triangular UFO with three lights on its bottom is sighted just above telephone poles and a tree line in Sarasota County, Florida, near the intersection of Proctor Road and Honore Avenue, moving back and forth at a slow speed of about 15 mph. The sighting causes a noticeable silence in the area, with no sounds from frogs or crickets, and the witness hears a slight whooshing noise when the object is directly overhead. When a small private plane flies nearby, the UFO quickly speeds away to the north. The witness tries to take a photo, but the image comes out blurry, while other photos taken before and after are clear, suggesting possible interference. - 2024, July 11 — The All-domain Anomaly Resolution Office releases two reports detailing the analysis of a metallic alloy, designated as “Artifact A1” and provided to the US Army by the To The Stars Academy of Arts and Science, allegedly recovered from a crashed UFO near Roswell, New Mexico, in 1947. The fragment supposedly exhibits extraordinary properties, including functioning as a terahertz waveguide and generating antigravity capabilities. The analysis, contracted in June 2021 to the Oak Ridge National Laboratory by the Army and AARO, involved a series of advanced tests, including isotopic ratio measurements, elemental composition analysis, and structural characterization using microscopy and spectrometry techniques. The findings indicate that isotopic composition of the magnesium and lead in the specimen falls within the expected values for terrestrial materials. The bismuth layers within the specimen were intermixed with lead, which precludes the possibility of it functioning as a waveguide. The report shows that the specimen’s characteristics are consistent with mid-20th-century magnesium alloy research and development projects, which often involved the use of zinc, lead, and bismuth additives for various purposes, including corrosion resistance. The banding and structural features observed in the specimen align with manufacturing techniques from that era, such as vapor deposition. The artifact is ultimately assessed as “likely a test object, a manufacturing product or byproduct, or a material component of aerospace performance studies to evaluate the properties of Mg alloys.” The provenance of the specimen is problematic, as it was sent to radio host Art Bell in 1996 by the grandson of a military officer who claimed it was retrieved from a UFO that crashed between the San Mateo Mountains and the Sierra Blanca west of Roswell—so not the standard Corona crash site. Journalist Linda Moulton Howe later reported on the results of an analysis at an unnamed university, according to which the approximately 5-centimeter fragment is said to consist of a magnesium-zinc alloy up to 200 millimeters thick, which is also alternately layered with layers of bismuth just one to four microns thick. Moulton Howe later referred to statements by leading US materials scientists (including those from MIT and Sandia National Laboratories) and again to military sources, all of whom allegedly puzzled over the possible origin, manufacturing methods, and application of such an alloy. Later, Stanford engineer Harold E. Puthoff, known for his investigations into numerous paranormal phenomena, not only attested to the layered structure of the fragment, but also to its exotic properties (including that of a so-called terahertz waveguide). Artifact A1 attracted attention again in 2019, when, after buying the samples from Moulton Howe for $35,000, the To The Stars Academy wanted to examine them again as part of its ADAM project, using a cooperative agreement with the US Army Combat Capabilities Development Command. However, any investigation seems to have stalled after the academy became more of an entertainment company in 2021. 2024, July 11 — Sen. Mike Rounds (R-S.Dak.) introduces a version of the Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena Disclosure Act, with Sen. Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.) as lead co-sponsor. The text is submitted as a possible floor amendment (SA 2610) to the FY 2025 National Defense Authorization Act (S, 4638). The text appears to largely track the Schumer-Rounds UAPDA that was incorporated into the FY24 NDAA that passed the Senate on July 27, 2023. The 2023 version was later gutted in conference negotiations with the House of Representatives, due mostly to opposition from the Pentagon. The new proposal retains provisions providing for creation of a presidentially appointed, Senate-confirmed Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena Records Review Board—a temporary federal agency with broad powers, including subpoena and eminent domain authorities. It also retains definitions for such key operative terms as “non-human intelligence,” “technologies of unknown origin,” “unidentified anomalous phenomena,” and “legacy program.” Sen. Kirsten Gillibrand (D-N.Y.) signs on as a cosponsor on July 23. - 2024, August 1 — 3:40 p.m. Near Fort Edward, New York, a pilot and co-pilot witness a bright green, cigar-shaped UFO that moves rapidly 200–300 feet above their aircraft and has no wings. The pilot estimates that it is about the size of a Boeing 747. After the sighting, both the pilot and co-pilot are questioned by a mysterious individual, and the co-pilot is grounded the following day. - 2024, August 1 — 8:00–9:00 p.m. A woman is with her teenage son at Anthony Lakes in eastern Oregon. She sees a small amber light across the lake flickering and blinking on the western shoreline. It blinks on and off several times before turning off for good. At 10:30 p.m., as they are walking along a trail near their campground, they see a bright orange and red light approximately 350 feet away and near the northwest part of the lake. They shine their flashlights at it, and the light begins approaching them, growing larger, but then stops and hovers about 6 feet above the water. They wake up her uncle at the campground, and he gets up and watches the light as well. The teenager says that there are flames around the sphere that look like plasma. - 2024, August 2–3 — 10:17 p.m. Security personnel at Palmdale (Calif.) Airport, which shares its runways with the US Air Force’s Plant 42, home to Lockheed Martin’s Skunk Works advanced projects division, notify the Base Defense Operations Center that two drones are “heading southbound towards site 4.” Multiple sightings follow—four drones hover, circle, and maneuver over Site 4’s parking area before drifting west toward Sierra Highway. By 11:55 p.m., the drones leave the area, but the flight chief and S2I intelligence personnel initiate an off-base pursuit at 12:10 a.m. The pursuit turns up empty. - 2024, August 3–4 — 9:39 p.m. Security personnel at Palmdale (Calif.) Airport track five drones maneuvering across multiple locations within the Air Force’s Plant 42 complex, with sightings at Sites 1, 4, 5, 7, and 9. At 12:30 a.m., one drone takes up a fixed position over Site 7, hovering motionless for 25 minutes. Finally, it drifts westward and out of sight at 12:55 a.m., along with the other drones. Security personnel mark their flight paths, but no operator can be located. (Kyle Warfel and Christopher Sharp, “Newly Obtained USAF Reports Expose Drone Breaches at Plant 42, Home to B-21 Raider and Other Top Secret Programs, Sparking Espionage Concerns,” Liberation Times, February 12, 2025)

- 2024, August 4–5 — 10:19 p.m. Security patrols at Palmdale (Calif.) Airport detect five drones maneuvering over Sites 1, 3, 4, and 5, moving southeast in a coordinated pattern. At 10:24 p.m., the flight chief and commander launch an off-base pursuit, tracking two of the drones as they move southeast beyond Plant 42’s perimeter. The chase extends as far as 110th Street East, but neither the drones nor their operator are found. At 12:21 a.m., security teams expand their efforts, setting up additional lookout positions at Avenue N and Avenue O, yet the pursuit ends with no results. (Kyle Warfel and Christopher Sharp, “Newly Obtained USAF Reports Expose Drone Breaches at Plant 42, Home to B-21 Raider and Other Top Secret Programs, Sparking Espionage Concerns,” Liberation Times, February 12, 2025)
- 2024, August 5 — 8:48 p.m. Security personnel at Palmdale (Calif.) Airport detect a drone with a flashing red light moving westbound across Site 2, heading toward Site 4. Moments later, a drone emitting a flashing green light is reported between Sites 3 and 4. The FAA tower is contacted, and the Los Angeles Sheriff’s Department helicopter is brought in to assist. The helicopter briefly spots a flashing red light in the distance but ultimately loses contact. At 9:30 p.m., ground patrols report “two solid white lights and one flashing red light” moving eastbound, later seen heading north toward Site 5’s fire station. By 10:05 p.m., all drones have vanished westward. (Kyle Warfel and Christopher Sharp, “Newly Obtained USAF Reports Expose Drone Breaches at Plant 42, Home to B-21 Raider and Other Top Secret Programs, Sparking Espionage Concerns,” Liberation Times, February 12, 2025)
- 2024, August 6 — The Brazilian Air Force releases a new set of UAP documents for 2023. - 2024, August 6 — Night. An Air Force Office of Special Investigations team posted to Plant 42 at Palmdale (Calif.) Airport briefly spots a low-flying object heading west, but they are unable to identify it. It was thought to be an unidentified light aircraft, comparable to a Cessna 172, and it approaches Plant 42 from the north-northwest, flying directly over the facility, and then shutting off its navigation lights and possibly its transponder. The aircraft loiters over the area in an erratic flight pattern before eventually departing undetected. (Kyle Warfel and Christopher Sharp, “Newly Obtained USAF Reports Expose Drone Breaches at Plant 42, Home to B-21 Raider and Other Top Secret Programs, Sparking Espionage Concerns,” Liberation Times, February 12, 2025)

- 2024, August 7 — 9:19 p.m. Security personnel at Plant 42 at Palmdale (Calif.) Airport spot a drone hovering over Site 4’s parking lot. Within seconds, it shifts westward, vanishing into the night. Minutes later, a drone is seen drifting over Site 1, and another drone is seen moving around Building #553. The pattern continues for nearly two hours, with five drones detected, circling and loitering over key areas before finally dispersing westward by 11:05 p.m. According to an intelligence assessment, “weather data during incident shows UXS [Unmanned X Systems, a broad military designation for unmanned aerial, ground, or maritime systems] can operate above hobbyist capabilities.” (Kyle Warfel and Christopher Sharp, “Newly Obtained USAF Reports Expose Drone Breaches at Plant 42, Home to B-21 Raider and Other Top Secret Programs, Sparking Espionage Concerns,” Liberation Times, February 12, 2025)
- 2024, August 8 — Sightings of mystery drones take place over an industrial park in Brunsbüttel, Germany. - 2024, August 9 — 8:54 p.m. Security teams detect four drones maneuvering in coordinated patterns over multiple locations at Palmdale (Calif.) Airport. The drones display red, green, and white blinking lights, moving south before looping back east, then west again. At one point, security personnel observe two solid green lights travelling southwest from Avenue N and 40th Street East, while a drone with a blinking red light flies over Site 9, reaching an estimated altitude of 2,000 feet and speeds of 25 mph. Despite patrol efforts, all drones vanish westward by 9:18 p.m. An intelligence assessment concludes that the activity follows a consistent pattern, with the objects “split distinctly in a north / south grouping and depart west and southeast.” During the entire week of incursions at Palmdale, no countermeasures are operational, leaving the objects completely unchallenged. Allegedly, no photos or videos are recorded. - 2024, August 14 — Due to the multiple drone incursions (reported as “a bright light, a hovercraft-like aircraft, and unusual flight patterns, including abrupt stops and zigzag movements”) in previous months, the Federal Aviation Administration imposes temporary flight restrictions on “uncrewed aerial systems” around Palmdale (Calif.) Airport and the US Air Force’s Plant 42. The restrictions are scheduled to be lifted on September 15. - 2024, August 16 — 10:00 p.m. Two individuals are night fishing out of the Buffalo Small Boat Harbor in Buffalo, New York, when they see two triangular objects hovering below the clouds over the Canadian side of Lake Erie. Initially, the witnesses notice red lights surrounding a white light, which pulsates while tracing the perimeter of the closest object. The nearer object makes some “crazy, jarring, geometric moves,” demonstrating its ability to accelerate instantaneously. After these movements, the more distant object takes off towards Canada, while the closer object crosses Lake Erie into the US. Both eventually disappear from sight. - 2024, September 20 — 5:34 a.m. A federal policeman in Oberweier, Friesenheim, Germany, returns home from a night shift and parks in front of her house. She hears a loud noise "like dragging a metal chain over asphalt" coming from the sky to the south. Indoors, her husband hears the same noise but does not look outside. She looks up and sees a bright-white wave-like formation preceded by two bright lights, one above the other. The sound stops after 5 seconds and the phenomenon disappears. She alerts UFO investigator Josef Garcia of the Gesellschaft zur Erforschung des UFO-Phänomens (GEP), who lives nearby. - 2024, September 28 — 8:00 p.m. An astrophotographer and his wife are stargazing on their backyard deck in Spearfish, South Dakota, when they notice a massive, chevron-shaped craft with a grayish aura and structured white lights, crossing the sky in just 10 seconds. The object appears to be in the upper atmosphere or low Earth orbit, moving silently at an estimated speed of 523,440 mph—around 238 times faster than the Lockheed SR-71 Blackbird. The couple initially sees a hazy orb, followed by the large craft gliding smoothly from northwest to east, resembling a ghostly, ethereal "stingray." The astrophotographer knows of no comparable man-made object that can fly that fast. Both draw matching depictions of the object, which they later recreate digitally. - 2024, October 8 — Journalist and activist Michael Shellenberger reveals on his subscription news site, Public, that he has contacted a new, unnamed whistleblower (later revealed to be Pentagon employee Matthew Brown) who alleges that the executive branch of the US government has been running since 2017 a highly classified and unacknowledged Special Access Program, called Immaculate Constellation, to collect, analyze, and quarantine instrumented UAP observations by the military and intelligence services. It involves a database of videos and images taken from infrared (IR), forward-looking infrared (FLIR), full-motion video (FMV), and still photos of UAP. The program also apparently involves the retrieval of exotic technologies from which "Alien Reproduction Vehicles" might be constructed. Another unnamed source states that this program is under the control of the Office of the Undersecretary of Defense and Intelligence. - 2024, October 21 — 11:00 p.m. A military-trained observer is camping alone in the Santa Rosa Mountain Yellow Post campsites near Ribbonwood, California, when suddenly all natural animal and insect noises cease and the entire area lights up brighter than the full moon. When he looks out from the bed of his truck, he sees a bright white oval light, about 20–30 feet in length, hovering silently at treetop level around 300 feet away. The light illuminates the entire area and remains completely still and noiseless, resembling a large helicopter in size but emitting no heat. After observing it for one minute, the witness retreats back to his truck bed. He falls asleep and awakens at 2:30 a.m., drenched in sweat, with no trace of the light remaining. - 2024, November 1 — 9:20 p.m. A commercial aircraft that has just taken off from Salt Lake City (Utah) International Airport en route to Rogue Valley International–Medford Airport in Oregon levels off at 36,000 feet and notices a group of about 5 or 6 bright white lights circling one another. The lights increase in speed corresponding to the intensity of the light. At one point, they form a triangle and remain motionless. The pilot and crew watch them for 45–50 minutes. (National UFO Reporting Center, "NUFORC UFO Sighting 183840," November 8, 2024)
- 2024, November 2 — Night. The same crew of the commercial aircraft that reported lights on November 1 watches a remarkable display on a flight from Los Angeles, California, to Boise, Idaho. A series of bright white lights form triangular shapes, move at high speeds, and exhibit unusual behaviors. Initially, two lights appear, followed by a vivid triangular formation of three lights that seems to rotate and shift. Additional lights join up with them, creating multiple triangles, some of which grow in size or appear to collapse into lines. The lights continue throughout the flight, often forming groups of five, and seem to center over northern California and central Oregon. During descent, the pilot observes two glowing lights in the clouds, which then disappear. (National UFO Reporting Center, "NUFORC UFO Sighting 183844," November 8, 2024)

In her opening remarks, Subcommittee on Cybersecurity, Information Technology, and Government Innovation Chair Rep. Nancy Mace (R-S.C.) references an anonymous (though revealed later is authored by Matthew Brown, a former Department of Defense official), untitled 12-page document provided by Shellenberger that discusses the unacknowledged Immaculate Constellation SAP, as well as government imagery, raw data collected by military personnel, restricted historical records, and signals intelligence related to UAP. Gallaudet refers to his personal experience coming to learn of a now-famous US Navy video, popularly known as “Go Fast,” and how an email he and others received from another U.S. Navy official disappeared following the incident. Elizondo states that “UAP are real. Advanced technologies not made by our government—or any other government—are monitoring sensitive military installations around the globe.” Shellenberger discusses UAP whistleblower claims he learned of from sources who spoke with him on background, some of whom have asserted the US Executive Branch has managed UAP programs and related issues for decades without congressional oversight. Gold acknowledges the stigmas that have long surrounded the topic, emphasizing that such attitudes even complicated his colleagues’ efforts with NASA’s UAP Independent Study Team. - 2024, November 14 — AARO releases its 2024 annual report on UAP, covering incidents reported from May 2023 through June 2024. According to the report, AARO received a total of 757 UAP reports during this period. These new additions bring the total number of UAP cases reviewed by AARO to over 1,600 as of June 1, 2024. The majority of the reports describe orbs, lights, and cylinders, but about 4% fall into the category of “other” and include unique descriptions like “green fireball,” “a jelly fish with [multicolored] flashing lights,” or a “silver rocket approximately six feet long.” Only 21 cases are designated as requiring further analysis to determine a cause. The report notes that military observers have reported 49 events that are at such high altitudes that the objects are in space, although a chart showing UAP altitudes does not indicate any space sightings. The report also offers some details on how the Pentagon’s GREMLIN deployable sensors, developed by Georgia Tech Research Institute to gather data about UAP incidents, actually work. During a media briefing the same day, AARO Director Jon T. Kosloski admits that his office is stumped by several “true anomalies.” He states: “There are interesting [UFO] cases that I, with my physics and engineering background and time in the [intelligence community], I do not understand. 2024, November 18–December 2 — Night. From five to twelve unidentified large drones are reported swarming above several areas in Morris County, New Jersey, including the US Army's Picatinny Arsenal, for 2 hours on November 18. The drone sightings are followed by appearances of military aircraft, a Blackhawk helicopter, and a New Jersey State Police helicopter. The sightings continue nightly, except for November 28. It is perhaps this incident that prompts the FBI to open an investigation into the mystery drones. The FBI opens a tip line, at first locally, then statewide, which records more than 5,000 drone sightings by December 18. Nancy Read, who lives on Ironia Road in Mendham, sees groups of drones—one stationary, the others "in and out of the tree line"—for long periods of time between 8:00 and 10:00 p.m. near the Randolph Regional Animal Shelter. Witness Mike Walsh estimates the largest drones are the size of a car. One night he is on a ridge near Black River Middle School in Chester, where he counts eight drones flying at once. He also sees multiple drones above Randolph's Company 4 Firehouse on Dover-Chester Road. Walsh reports the drones to Mendham and Randolph police. The Ocean County (N.J.) Sheriff's Office's Drone Unit, armed with a flight radar tracker, sets up a mobile command center at Hiering Avenue and Ocean Terrace in Seaside Heights to search for mystery drones; their radar definitely tracks unmanned devices that are 3–4 feet long and fly at speeds up to 60 mph. On the other hand, many of the videos posted on social media, upon analysis, actually do show aircraft. 2024, November 19 — The Senate Armed Services Subcommittee on Emerging Threats and Capabilities overseen by US Sen. Kirsten Gillibrand (D-N.Y.) hears testimony from Jon T. Kosloski, director of the Pentagon's All-Domain Anomaly Resolution Office, on AARO's progress over the past year. Kosloski states that "it is important to underscore that, to date, AARO has not discovered any verifiable evidence of extraterrestrial beings, activity, or technology." Still, despite having resolved hundreds of cases with prosaic explanations, Kosloski notes that his office does not believe that every UAP is a bird, balloon, or drone. "We do have some very anomalous objects," he testifies, "although only a small percentage of reports received by AARO are potentially anomalous." Kosloski finds prosaic explanations for the 2013 Aguadilla, Puerto Rico, incident, the 2016 Go Fast video, and a 2018 video showing a drone above Mount Etna, Italy. Kosloski defends the office against charges of a government cover-up, saying that "Congress has gone out of its way to create the organization AARO specifically to conduct these sorts of investigations, and has uniquely empowered them to have access to all UAP related information, whether that's historic or current, and we take that responsibility and those authorities very seriously." Kosloski says AARO plans in 2025 to roll out a public reporting mechanism on AARO's website where members of the general public can download a reporting form and submit details about possible UAP sightings, along with attachments such as imagery. The document responds to a request from the Directorate-General for Energy, Unit B4–Energy Security and Safety, to develop a "fitness check" to assess "the effectiveness, efficiency, coherence, relevance, and EU added value of the Gas Security of Supply Regulation and the Electricity Risk Preparedness Regulation (ERPR)." It states that "the frequency of UAP sightings near energy assets necessitates a proactive and comprehensive approach to risk preparedness. - 2024, November 20–Early December — Unidentified drones are reported swarming above and near RAF Lakenheath and RAF Mildenhall in Suffolk, RAF Feltwell in Norfolk, and RAF Fairford in Gloucestershire, England, on November 20–22. The number of reported drones fluctuates, and they differ in size and configuration. There are unconfirmed reports that US F-15E Strike Eagles with their transponders off are scrambled to chase the drones and that flight operations are affected. A police helicopter reportedly comes "dangerously close" to a drone near Newmarket and abandons its mission around 9:30 p.m. on November 22. Drones again appear above RAF Lakenheath and RAF Mildenhall on November 25 and continue through November 27. US officials say that the drones "do not appear to be the work of hobbyists." Col. Jack R. Arthaud, commander of the 48th Fighter Wing at Lakenheath announces that the incidents "are being actively monitored and have not impacted base residents or infrastructure." About 60 members of the British armed forces are said to deploy across the three air bases in response to the incidents, although the Ministry of Defence does not confirm this report. The RAF has offered the US "a counter-drone system that can electronically take command of an enemy drone and turn it back on itself to try to identify those flying the drones." During a parliamentary debate in the House of Commons on November 27, MPs Luke Akehurst (North Durham) and Nick Timothy (West Suffolk) share their constituents' concerns about the increasing number of drone sightings. The Minister of State for Defence Procurement and Industry Maria Engle assures them that the bases are employing "multi-layered and credible force protection measures." On the same date in the House of Lords, Minister of State for Defence Vernon Coaker assures questioners that "All agencies and parts of the state will work to ensure that we identify and do what we can with those who are conducting these acts." Meanwhile, the US Air Force Office of Special Investigations has been in the Suffolk area and has spoken to local people about what they have seen. Two meetings of Cobra, an emergency response committee, take place in the wake of the sightings. The landing site is relocated away from the campus, which is commonly used as a landing site for helicopters from the New Jersey State Police Emergency Medical Services Responses Program (North-Star) for emergency transports. Three commercial aircraft are approaching Solberg/Hunterdon Airport in Readington Township at the time and could have given the visual appearance of drones. - 2024, December 5 — The US Department of Defense releases a two-page Fact Sheet on a new classified strategy to guide efforts to protect American forces abroad and across the US homeland from growing drone threats. The new counter-drone strategy is said to build upon a number of existing efforts, including the establishment of the Joint Counter-small Unmanned Aircraft Systems Office in 2020. It is also set to tie into a new Pentagon initiative to help speed up the acquisition and fielding of new counter-drone capabilities dubbed Replicator 2. The first

Replicator effort has been focused on getting more uncrewed systems into the hands of US warfighters. In addition, the heads of US Northern Command and US Indo-Pacific Command have been given new synchronizer roles to help coordinate counter-drone preparedness (including the training and equipping of relevant forces) and actual responses to incidents. - 2024, December 5 — 7:56 p.m. Six or seven large drones are seen traveling in from the ocean toward the National Guard Training Center at Sea Girt, New Jersey, and hovering above the coastline. At the time, aircraft approaching John F. Kennedy International Airport from the south are making turns toward the coast at Sea Girt and could have been mistaken as drones. (Transportation Security Administration, “LE/FAMS NWK Sightings Review.” December 17, 2024)
- 2024, December 5–11 — Drone sightings expand to the Philadelphia suburbs and Staten Island in New York. In New Jersey, police receive 49 reports on December 8 alone. More than a dozen drones follow a Coast Guard ship off Ocean County on December 8, according to Lt. Luke Pinneo of the USCG, while Sheriff Michael Mastronardy and other law enforcement officers track another 50 drones coming ashore from the ocean at Island Beach State Park. Residents in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, spot what appears to be five large drones fly about 1,000 feet in the air above the Solebury Township Police Department late at night; the department also receives reports of two large drones in town that day and the week prior. A drone is spotted near Joint Base Charleston, South Carolina, on December 10. Drone pilot Michael B, the CEO of Terror Talk Productions in Denville, New Jersey, explains on MSNBC that while his drones lose power upon entering FAA-restricted zones, the mystery drones appear to retain their ability to fly in those areas; the technology that allows him to fly his drones physically does not work in restricted areas, so these devices must have the technology to bypass the restrictions. - 2024, December 7 — 8:39 p.m. A United Airlines pilot flying over Willamette National Forest east of Eugene, Oregon, reports red, circular lights moving erratically toward the ocean and returning at various altitudes from 30,000 to 50,000 feet. Another crew member on the same flight observes the objects moving in corkscrew patterns at an extreme speed. At 8:46 p.m., a pilot flying a Life Flight medical evaluation plane over Siuslaw National Forest northwest of Eugene sees a red light going in circles about 20 miles away at an altitude of 1,000 feet. It zips toward the plane and then reverses to the ocean at high speed. A 44-minute recording of air traffic controllers talking to the pilots is archived from LiveATC.net. - 2014, December 9 — New Jersey Gov. Phil Murphy addresses the growing concern about the drones, saying "I should say, most importantly, right up front, we see—and when I say we this includes Homeland Security, FBI, Secret Service, our state police—we don't see any concern to public safety." Murphy is responding to a December 8 letter from 21 mayors demanding action and a full investigation. - 2024, December 10 — The Counterterrorism, Law Enforcement, and Intelligence and Transportation and Maritime Security Subcommittees of the House Committee on Homeland Security hold a joint hearing on "Safeguarding the Homeland from Unmanned Aerial Systems." Assistant FBI Director Robert Wheeler admits that despite repeated assurances from Gov. Phil Murphy and other public officials, the agency cannot say definitively whether the drones pose a threat: "Are we concerned there are nefarious intentions that could cause either an actual security or public safety incident? There is nothing known that would lead me to say that, but we just don't know and that's the concerning part." He says that more than 3,000 sightings have been phoned in to a tip line set up by the FBI. Historian and military analyst Paul Schwennesen testifies that US counter-drone technology is inadequate to contain actual security threats and suggests that the military look to Ukrainian successes in its war with Russia before a serious incident occurs. (Cory Booker, "Booker, Schumer, Gillibrand, Kim Send Letter to FBI, DHS, and FAA Requesting Briefing," December 12, 2024)

- 2024, December 11 — The Department of Homeland Security briefs several state and local lawmakers for 90 minutes about the mystery drones in the New Jersey State Police headquarters facility in West Trenton, New Jersey. State Assemblywoman Dawn Fantasia (R-24th) says that officials said that the devices appear to avoid interference by traveling with their lights off and other counter-detection measures. Many of them are up to 6 feet in diameter, which is larger than those typically used by hobbyists. Officials also state that some of the objects seen are aircraft, not drones. In Washington, Deputy Pentagon Press Secretary Sabrina Singh confirms to reporters that the drone sightings are not linked to any US military drone activities and that the Pentagon currently has no evidence to suggest they are being controlled by foreign actors. - 2024, December 11 — 8:25 p.m. A Gulfstream G550 business jet strikes an unidentified metallic object at 27,000 feet off the Florida coast. The object penetrates fan blades and damages internal engine components, requiring the jet to make an emergency landing at Palm Beach International Airport. One report cites a large circular indentation on the leading edge of the engine nacelle. Ryan Graves of Americans for Safe Aerospace says that the report has been classified as an "incident," rather than an accident, which would require a public announcement and an investigation by the National Transportation Safety Board. (Mark Phelps, "Report: Gulfstream Hits 'Metallic' Object at 27,000 Feet," AVweb Aviation News, January 9, 2025)
- 2024, December 12 — In a routine press conference, White House National Security Communications Advisor John Kirby states, "We have no evidence at this time that the reported drone sightings pose a national security or a public safety threat, or have a foreign nexus." He adds that "there are no reported or confirmed drone sightings in any restricted airspace." The Department of Homeland Security and the FBI issue a joint statement to the same effect. Rep. Chris Smith (R-N.J.) calls the Biden administration "dismissive" about the reported sightings and argues it has failed its "obligation to the American people to figure out and tell us what is going on immediately." - 2024, December 12 — 4:10 p.m. Three or more drones are seen hovering for an extended period of time over the waterlines at the Salem Nuclear Power Plant in Lower Alloways Creek Township, New Jersey. The sightings are possibly explained by two slow-moving small aircraft operating at 600 and 4,200 feet, and by commercial aircraft departures from Philadelphia (Pa.) International Airport. (Transportation Security Administration, "LE/FAMS NWK Sightings Review," December 17, 2024)
- 2024, December 12 — 5:25 p.m. A witness in Clinton, New Jersey, watches a drone flying from northeast to north, dipping up and down while spraying a gray mist. The Transportation Security Administration identifies the object "with a high confidence level" as a Beechcraft Baron 58 aircraft experiencing turbulence. The gray mist is explained as a condensation cloud caused by rapid pressure changes over the surfaces of its wings. (Transportation Security Administration, "LE/FAMS NWK Sightings Review," December 17, 2024)

- 2024, December 13 — House Speaker Mike Johnson (R-La.) receives a classified briefing on the drone situation. On Truth Social President-Elect Donald Trump calls for authorities to shoot down the mystery drones. Both New Jersey Gov. Phil Murphy and New Jersey Assemblyman Mike Inganamort (R-24th) urge the Biden administration to take action. Connecticut State Sen. Tony Hwang (R-28th) issues a statement, saying it is "unsettling to public safety and security, both here in Fairfield and elsewhere." Pennsylvania Gov. Josh Shapiro announces that the state police will investigate drones seen in the northeast part of the state. - 2024, December 13 — Enigma app users have logged more than 100 sightings of mystery drones since November 19. The company has noticed a few trends: Many of the drones are "exceptionally large," have the ability to hover for long periods, and move in swarms of five or more. Several Enigma witnesses have reported sightings near military bases. - 2024, December 13 — 6:58 p.m. A witness in London, Ontario, watches multiple large drones with lights flashing white, red, and green for 3.5 hours. The objects allegedly affect the witness's ability to record a smartphone video as they pass by. At one point a bright "spotlight" appears and hovers over his backyard; after 30 minutes it slowly gains altitude before it disappears. (National UFO Reporting Center, "NUFORC UFO Sighting 185166," December 14, 2024)
- 2024, December 13 — 9:40 p.m. Mystery drones shut down Stewart International Airport in Orange County, New York, for an hour, prompting Gov. Kathy Hochul to call on Congress to pass the Counter-UAS Authority Security, Safety, and Reauthorization Act (H.R. 8610), which would allow state and local law enforcement to strengthen FAA oversight of drones. (“This Has Gone Too Far,” NBC News, December 14, 2024; “Statement by Governor Kathy Hochul on Additional Drone Activity,” December 14, 2024)

- 2024, December 13–14 — 10:08 p.m. A black quadcopter drone with alternating red and green lights is seen hovering near the Hot Cargo Pads before flying to the West Ramp at Wright-Patterson AFB near Dayton, Ohio, and passing over Fire Station #2 at roughly 20 feet in the air. Three drones flying in a diamond formation are then spotted, although they do not turn up on the base’s NINJA sensor system. One witness notices a significant loss of radio strength when the drones are less than 250 feet away. Following unsuccessful sweeps of the base and confirming that no incoming flights are detected on radar, officials issue a Notice To Airmen at 10:30 p.m., closing the airspace above the base for about four hours. Base spokesman Bob Purtiman asserts that the incursion “did not impact base residents, facilities, or assets.” More drones are reported around the base the night of December 16–17, but the airspace remains open. 2024, December 14 — During an interagency background call with reporters, an official with the US Department of Homeland Security reiterates that there is no “evidence that there’s a threat to public safety” from the drones. “We’re confident that many of the reported drone sightings are, in fact, manned aircraft being misidentified as drones.” An FAA official states that it is not illegal to fly drones in US airspace, while an FBI official adds there has been “a slight overreaction” to the drone sightings. A spokesperson from the Joint Chiefs acknowledges drone sightings at Picatinny Arsenal and Naval Weapons Station Earle, but says this type of incident happens “routinely,” adding that the incursions are “irresponsible,” if not criminal. Massachusetts Gov. Maura Healey indicates that state police are working with federal and local authorities to enforce regulations. Virginia Gov. Glenn Youngkin announces that the state Department of Emergency Management is coordinating with “federal partners” on drone activity due to the large number of “national security and critical infrastructure sites” in Virginia. 2024, December 14 — New Jersey Assemblyman Erik Peterson (R-23rd) tells the press that he has seen multiple drones over his rural part of the state: “You can see very clearly we’re not in any flight path for any airlines or other craft. You can look up in the sky and see these drones and the way that they’re moving, they move forward, they stop, they hover, they move sideways, they stop, they hover, they move backwards. It’s obviously not an airplane. It’s not a helicopter because it’s not making any noise. And so, it’s a drone.” Also, Flightradar24 shows no aircraft during these encounters. (Rachel Dobkin, “Government ‘Lying’ about Drones: New Jersey Official,” Newsweek, December 14, 2024)

2024, December 14 — The National UFO Reporting Center releases a summary report on the mystery drones, revealing that the “flap” is so widespread and intense that its sighting volume has doubled. It offers a sampling of reports from November 15 to December 14 originating from all over the country, including the West and Midwest, with some coming from Canada, although not all of them seem to describe drones. (“The Great ‘Drone’ Flap of 2024,” National UFO Reporting Center, December 14, 2024)

2024, December 14 — Evening. A Boston Police Harbor Patrol unit, in concert with federal authorities, arrests two men on Long Island in Boston Harbor who have been operating a drone dangerously close to Logan Airport since 4:30 p.m. Robert Duffy and Jeremy Folcik are caught with a drone in their possession. A third man flees the island in a small boat. Duffy and Folcik are arraigned in Boston on trespassing charges on December 16. 2024, December 15 — Sen. Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.) calls on the US Department of Homeland Security to deploy better drone-tracking technology—specifically a Robin radio wave detector attached to a drone or airplane that can read a drone’s electronic registration and follow it back to a landing place—to identify the mystery drones and their operators. “We’re asking the DHS, the Department of Homeland Security, to deploy special detection systems like the Robin, which use not a linear line of sight, but 360-degree technology that has a much better chance of detecting these drones.” Schumer says during a news conference. “And we’re asking DHS to bring them to the New York, New Jersey area.” Homeland Security Secretary Alejandro Mayorkas says the federal government is “deploying additional resources” to address the sightings, adding that “there’s no question that people are seeing drones.” (Bill Hutchinson, “Feds Are Urged to Deploy High-Tech Drone Hunters to Solve Mystery behind Sightings,” ABC News, December 15, 2024; “Mayorkas Says Federal Authorities Are Addressing New Jersey Drone Sightings,” ABC News, December 15, 2024)

- 2024, December 16 — President-elect Donald Trump accuses President Joe Biden and other US government officials of knowing more about the drones and their origins than they are publicly stating. White House National Security Communications Advisor John Kirby pushes back on Trump’s comments, telling reporters that of the more than 5,000 tips officials have received about drone sightings in recent weeks, only 100 require further examination. Most are fixed-wing, piloted aircraft that are taking off or landing at major airports, others are smaller planes, and some are hobbyist drones. “We have not identified anything anomalous or any national security or public safety risk over the civilian airspace in New Jersey or other states in the Northeast,” Kirby says, adding that more than 1 million drones are registered with the FAA. Rebecca Weiner, deputy commissioner for intelligence and counterterrorism at the New York Police Department, says that hobbyists and police send up their own drones to investigate, triggering even more reports of unusual activity. Pentagon press secretary Maj. Gen. Patrick S. Ryder tells the press that “it’s not unusual to see drones in the sky, nor is it an indication of malicious activity or any public safety threat.” (“Something Strange Is Going On,” NBC News, December 16, 2024; “The Ordinary Explanations behind the Mysterious Lights in the Skies,” New York Times, December 16, 2024; Kevin D. - 2024, December 17 — Multiple federal agencies issue a joint statement on the drones, saying the FBI has received tips on more than 5,000 reported sightings over the past few weeks. All have been assessed to be the normal, lawful operations of “commercial drones, hobbyist drones, and law enforcement drones, as well as manned fixed-wing aircraft, helicopters, and stars mistakenly reported as drones,” adding that sightings near or over Department of Defense installations are not new. (US Department of Defense, “DHS, FBI, FAA, and DoD Joint Statement on Ongoing Response to Reported Drone Sightings,” December 17, 2024)
- 2024, December 17 — French statistician and ufologist Michael Vaillant offers a European analysis of the US mystery drone sightings, writing that none of the current hypotheses (military, private, foreign, or psy-op operations) are completely adequate, and that much more reliable data is needed. (Michael Vaillant, “Shadows in the Sky: Unidentified Drones and the New Jersey Mystery,” UAP Check, December 17, 2024)
- 2024, December 17 — Night. The CIA, FBI, Department of Homeland Security, and Department of Defense meet with members of the House Intelligence Committee for a classified briefing about unidentified drones. Rep. Jim Himes (D-Conn.) says they were told that any drones sighted were not operated by the federal government and no laws were being broken by drones that were being flown in the area. Randle, “Drones: The Guesses Just Keep on Coming,” A Different Perspective, December 26, 2024)
- 2024, December 17 — 8:00–10:30 p.m. Drones are reported in residential areas in White Settlement, Texas, near NAS Joint Reserve Base Fort Worth. Both residents and police officers see drones flying together about 100 feet in the air, sometimes in groups of six, other times two or three drones together. (“White Settlement Drone Sightings under Federal Investigation,” KDFW-TV, Dallas, Texas, December 18, 2024; “White Settlement Police Searching for Operators of Drones Sighted near Military Base,” KXAS-TV, Fort Worth, Texas, December 18, 2024)
- 2024, December 18 — Sen. Rand Paul (R-Ky.) blocks an effort to pass legislation authorizing state and local authorities to track drones, arguing that the bill would give the government unnecessary surveillance powers. The bill sponsored by Senate Homeland Security Committee Chair Gary Peters (D-Mich.) and backed by Senate Majority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.) would have allowed local law enforcement agencies to work more closely with the Defense Department and FAA to track the drones. (Alexander Bolton, “Rand Paul Blocks Bill to Authorize Local, State Authorities to Track Drones,” The Hill, December 18, 2024)
- 2024, December 19 — The Federal Aviation Administration issues temporary flying restrictions (TFR) in multiple cities in northeastern and central-west New Jersey due to “special security reasons.” These areas are declared “National Defense Airspace” until January 17, 2025. Commercial drone operations are allowed with a valid statement of work, but operators must obtain a special governmental interest airspace waiver, and all applicable FAA regulations must be followed. The agency warns that the US government may use deadly force against any drones if they pose an imminent threat. - 2024, December 19 — Luis Elizondo responds to the 11 “questions for the record” posed by Rep. Eric Burlison (R-Mo.) following his testimony at the joint hearing of November 13. Elizondo unequivocally states that “The U.S. Government (or a defense contractor) has in its possession exotic materials of nonhuman origin.” He also asserts that “I am aware of several incidents where the U.S. military and certain Defense Contract companies recovered craft/vehicles of non-human origin. In some cases, biological specimens were recovered from such crashes.” However, he cannot verify that the specimens were alive at the time of recovery, or even that they were in one piece. Elizondo adds that in “approximately 2004,” the Bush administration sponsored a “conversation” about UAP disclosure, but “the decision was made that the U.S. Government should not disclose any UAP-related information to the public.” (“House Oversight Committee and Luis Elizondo Q&A \(Dec. 2024\),” Mirador; Baptiste Friscourt, “Whistleblowers: Extraordinary Claims, No Evidence,” Sentinel News, February 51, 2025)
- 2024, December 20 — The FAA extends the drone ban to parts of New York City and Long Island, primarily areas near electric power stations and critical infrastructure sites. (“Federal Officials Extend New Jersey Drone Ban to Parts of New York,” The Guardian (UK), December 20, 2024; Howard Altman, “Nuclear Power Plants Report Massive Uptick in Drone Sightings,” The War Zone, December 21, 2024)
- 2024, December 23 — Night. A flight crew is flying an empty private jet over the Bahamas when air traffic control in Miami, Florida, asks the pilot to identify an unknown radar target to the west. The pilot sees three objects, but flight attendant Cassandra Martin only sees one white light that turns slightly green. Martin takes a cellphone video that shows a spherical object darting about. It stays with the aircraft for 45 minutes before the crew loses sight of it. Later, they notice it has moved high above their altitude of 45,000 feet. (“UFO Sighting? Fort Lauderdale Flight Crew Spots Something Strange in the Sky,” WTVJ-TV, Miami, Florida, January 9, 2025)
- 2024, December 24 — NASA’s Parker Solar Probe travels at the fastest speed that any human-made object has ever achieved, clocking in at 430,000 mph on its closest approach to the solar surface. (“The Fastest Speed That Humans Have Traveled Is 39,937.7 Kilometers Per Hour,” IFLScience, June 9, 2025)
- 2024, December 25 — Some 17 sightings of mystery drones are reported above the Francis S. Gabreski Airport in Suffolk County, Long Island, New York. At least 10 other reports take place over the next 10 days. There are also numerous drone sightings reported over the North Fork peninsula in the last month, according to Southold police. (“Area Officials React to Rash of Drone Sightings, Press for Federal Support,” Riverhead (N.Y.) News-Review, January 4, 2025)

2025

- 2025, January — Mystery drones are reported numerous times in Sublette County, Wyoming. County Sheriff K. C. Lehr says the sightings “range from patterns involving two or three devices, to 10–12 in formation.” The size of the drones ranges from large (the size of a Volkswagen) to “smaller drones flying in a grid pattern around that singular drone.” Some of the drones appear above the Mesa Spring area, an oil-and-gas infrastructure. Reports from Sweetwater County include drones seen above the coal-fired Jim Bridger Power Plant in Point of Rocks. The sheriffs of Campbell, Weston, Johnson, Natrona, Washakie, and Niobrara counties all report drone sightings. (“Eight Wyoming Sheriffs Seeing Mystery Drones Still Have No Answers,” Cowboy State Daily (Cheyenne, Wyoming), January 29, 2025)
- 2025, January–March — The Federal Aviation Administration records 411 reports of illegal drone incursions near airports across the US, a 25.6% increase from the 327 reports in same period in 2024. The most frequent locations are Chicago (29), Houston (19), New York (18), Orlando (18), and San Diego (14). (Tim McMillan, “‘We Are Going to Have a Catastrophic Incident’: Drone Incursions in Restricted Airspace Are Surging in 2025,” The Debrief, May 30, 2025)
- 2025, January 3–4 — 10:30 p.m. From 4–20 mystery drones are reported above the marina at Køge, Denmark. Danish police verify the initial report, and the last drones are seen disappearing above the Køge Bugt at 1:16 a.m. (“Mystiske dromer: Nu reagerer PET,” Ekstra Bladet (Copenhagen, Denmark), January 4, 2025; “Danish Police Investigate Mystery Drone Sightings,” Deutsche Welle, January 4, 2025)
- 2025, January 4 — Near Yardley, Pennsylvania, close to Joint Base McGuire-Dix-Lakehurst in New Jersey, a pilot sees three unmanned aerial systems (UAS) flying in a “triangle formation” at an altitude of approximately 6,000 feet. (Tim McMillan, “‘We Are Going to Have a Catastrophic Incident’: Drone Incursions in Restricted Airspace Are Surging in 2025,” The Debrief, May 30, 2025)
- 2025, January 5 — UFO researcher Tristan Routier publishes a report and analysis of 276 UFO cases that occurred on the continent of Africa. He recommends the creation of a pan-African UFO database and notes that the UFO narratives are often interwoven with cultural and spiritual contexts. (Tristan Routier, "Rapport d'analyse sur les observations d'OVNI en Afrique," UAPAfrique, January 5, 2025)

- 2025, January 7 — 1:30 a.m. Devid Otto and Diana Lizeth hear a strange sound and see a massive, bus-sized, black object hovering above their vehicles while they are stopped at a red light at the intersection of Ontario Highway 60 and King William Street in Huntsville, Ontario. It has three dim, yellow lights. When the traffic light turns green, Otto moves on and does not see the object again. ("It's a Bird! It's a Plane! It's a Drone 'the Size of a Bus.'" Huntsville (Ont.) Forester, January 11, 2025)
- 2025, January 8 — The US Nuclear Regulatory Commission releases records highlighting drone incursions over sensitive nuclear installations from 2022 to 2024. The records reveal a pattern of sightings that are then sent to AARO to add to their yearly reports. (John Greenwald, "New Documents Highlight Drone Sightings near Nuclear Facilities," The Black Vault, January 8, 2025)
- 2025, January 8 — 6:30 p.m. Four or five mystery drones are seen at the Prairie Island Nuclear Power Plant in Red Wing, Minnesota. Police responding to the report observe two drones flying around the plant and near Lock and Dam #3 on the Mississippi River. ("Drones Sighted near Prairie Island Nuclear Plant," KTTN-TV, Rochester, Minnesota, January 9, 2025; "Drones Spotted Flying over Nuclear Plant in Minnesota," WCCO-TV, Minneapolis, Minnesota, January 10, 2025)
- 2025, January 9 — Luis Elizondo drafts a policy brief for the UAP Disclosure Fund recommending that the incoming Trump administration create a Senior Advisor position to advise the president on Emerging All-Domain Technologies. The position would coordinate responses to drone incursions and address UAP sightings. Elizondo has already indicated that he would be willing to serve as an advisor. - 2025, January 9 — At a dinner with 22 Republican governors at Mar-A-Lago, President-Elect Donald Trump promises to deliver a "report on drones about one day" after his inauguration. Governors Glenn Youngkin (R-Va.), Jeff Landry (R-La.), and Mark Gordon (R-Wyo.) express frustration over the lack of information from government agencies. (Ashleigh Fields, "Trump: 'I'm Going to Give You a Report on Drones about One Day into the Administration'," The Hill, January 10, 2025)
- 2025, January 10 — Two US intelligence agencies issue a summary report on Havana Syndrome, concluding that it's possible that a small number of cases were caused by a "novel weapon" wielded by a foreign actor. Sometime in the last two years, the US has received new intelligence that indicates a foreign nation's directed energy research programs had been "making progress." That leads one unnamed intelligence agency to assess that there was a "roughly even chance" that a foreign country has used some kind of novel weapon against a small group of victims. According to two former intelligence officials, one of those agencies is the National Security Agency. ("New Intelligence Suggests 'Havana Syndrome' Possibly Caused by Foreign Weapon," CNN, January 10, 2025)
- 2025, January 12 — Up to 10 mystery drones are reported near Ingolstadt Manching Airport, a military air base in Manching, Bavaria, Germany. Bavarian State Police are unable to identify the operators despite "intensive search measures." Drones have been reported in the area since mid-December, as well as at an armed forces base near Neiberg an der Donau, Bavaria, and at Ramstein Air Base, a US/NATO forces installation in southwestern Germany. Intelligence, defense, and law enforcement officials have identified Russia as the most probable culprit. - 2025, January 14 — Afternoon. A mystery drone is reported by a private pilot to the tower at Fresno (Calif.) Yosemite International Airport. Shortly afterward, a Fresno police helicopter investigates a mystery drone flying at 3,000 feet above the Yosemite Freeway and Herndon Avenue. A second pilot reports an object following him at 3,500 feet, and the first pilot calls in again to report a white object flying at 3,500 feet over the city. ("UFO Sightings Spark Intrigue over Fresno Skies," KMPH-TV, Fresno, California, January 15, 2025)
- 2025, January 15 — The Office of the Chief Science Advisor of Canada releases its first preliminary report on the Management of Public Reporting of Unidentified Aerial Phenomena in Canada: A Preview of the Upcoming Sky Canada Report. It contains a Message from the chief science advisor, Mona Nemer, and an executive summary. These are followed by two appendices, the first a list of contributors and experts consulted and the second the results of a survey of Canadians by an outside agency regarding opinions on UAP. It recommends that a federal agency such as the Canadian Space Agency be designated to handle UAP reports, and that Transport Canada should actively encourage pilots to report UAP. A full report will be released later in the year. - 2025, January 18 — Jacob Barber, a former USAF Special Operations airman who was officially employed as a mechanic at Pope Field in Spring Lake, North Carolina, tells Ross Coulthart on NewsNation that he once worked for a secret unit that retrieved debris that he believes was from crashed UFOs. One object, which he claims to have retrieved from a helicopter, looked like a large white egg, was the size of a SUV, and had no engine and no thermal signature. On another occasion, he picked up a disc with eight distinct segments. - 2025, January 21 — 12:27 a.m. An unidentified object is tracked on radar in Kastamonu province, Turkey. It disappears from screens in a forested area around Kırıçoğlu. The incident prompts an extensive response by the Turkish Air Force and provincial police and disaster teams, which are employing thermal drones and ground troops in the vicinity. Searches also extend to the Ilgaz Mountain region. (“Investigation Underway after UFO Vanishes from Radar in Kastamonu, Türkiye.” Türkiye Today, January 21, 2025)

- 2025, January 21 — 5:00 a.m. A witness near Hopwood, Pennsylvania, notices a light outside his window that is coming from three spherical objects, each the size of a basketball, sitting in his yard. They immediately come together to form a single white light that is much brighter and shoots up into the sky after a few seconds. (Stan Gordon, “Three Glowing Orbs on the Ground Rise Straight Up into the Sky in Pennsylvania.” Stan Gordon’s UFO Anomalies Zone, February 1, 2025)

- 2025, January 26 — 7:20 p.m. Two witnesses in Steeleville, Illinois, watch a silent object shaped like a black diamond moving to the northwest about 20 mph some 80 feet above their house. It has dimly glowing lights on its bottom front section. It remains in sight for 10 seconds. (National UFO Reporting Center, “NUFORC UFO Sighting.” January 31, 2025)
- 2025, January 28 — White House Press Secretary Karoline Leavitt announces that the mystery drones of 2024 were both known by the US government and authorized by the FAA as well “for research and various other reasons.” (“White House: FAA Authorized Most New Jersey Drones during Last Year’s Widespread Sightings.” The National News Desk, January 28, 2025; Micah Hanks, “White House Issues New Statement on ‘Mystery Drones’ That Leaves More Questions Than Answers.” The Debrief, January 28, 2025)
- 2025, February — Morning. Near Long Beach (Calif.) Airport, the pilot of a small single-engine aircraft has a near-miss with a “bright red, multi-rotor drone” that flashes past the plane at an altitude of 3,500 feet. “Had the drone intersected my flight path, it could have caused a catastrophic midair collision, with probable impact to control surfaces, propeller, engine, fuel tank, or canopy,” the pilot reports in the Aviation Safety Reporting System report. “Had it impacted the canopy head-on, I would have been killed instantly.” (Tim McMillan, “We Are Going to

- 2025, February — Morning. Roughly 15 miles from Fort Worth, Texas, the pilot of a cargo aircraft encounters a white, elongated drone that passes approximately 100 feet above the cockpit while the plane is flying at 15,500 feet. “It appeared to be not a small hobby drone, and it looked maybe 3 to 4 feet long,” the pilot wrote in an Aviation Safety Reporting System report. (Tim McMillan, “‘We Are Going to Have a Catastrophic Incident’: Drone Incursions in Restricted Airspace Are Surging in 2025.” The Debrief, May 30, 2025)
- 2025, February — Night. The crew of an Air Ambulance helicopter at an unnamed location is involved in a near miss with an “Unidentified Flying Object,” according to an Aviation System Reporting System entry. One of the crew sees an object directly in front of the windscreen and calls to the pilot to take evasive action. The pilot banks hard to the left, and another crew member witnesses the object pass to the right of the fuselage and just below the main rotor disc. It is estimated that the object was less than 10 feet from the aircraft. The pilot and medical team are operating with night vision goggles, thus they cannot positively identify the object. (Tim McMillan, “‘We Are Going to Have a Catastrophic Incident’: Drone Incursions in Restricted Airspace Are Surging in 2025.” The Debrief, May 30, 2025)
- 2025, February 3 — The existence of a secret UAP Working Group within the FBI is revealed when agents express concern that they will be purged by the Trump administration because some of them were also involved in the 2021 attack on the US Capitol. Ryan Graves, founder of Americans for Safe Aerospace, says his organization has worked with a “small team at the FBI called the UAP Working Group to investigate credible reports of UAP by trained observers like pilots and veterans” when there is a potential for a violation of federal law or national security. (Daniel Lippman, “FBI Agents Who Investigate UFOs Worried They Could Be Pushed Out in Possible Purge.” Politico, February 3, 2025; Micah Hanks, “The FBI Confirms It Has a Secretive ‘UAP Working Group,’ But Agents Now Worry Their Jobs Could Be in Jeopardy.” The Debrief, February 3, 2025)
- 2025, February 11 — US House Oversight Committee chair James Comer (R-Ky.) and Rep. Anna Paulina Luna (R-Fla.) announce a new six-month task force on the “declassification of federal secrets” in response to President Donald Trump’s order commanding federal agencies to declassify files on the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy, Robert F. Kennedy, and the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. The task force will also look into UAP, unidentified submerged objects, and other topics, including the origins of COVID-19. All of the Republican members of the task force have a history of supporting marginal topics or conspiracy theories. The task force sends letters to the heads of the Defense and State Departments and to the director of the CIA, requesting briefings on UAP-related documents by February 18. - 2025, March — A drone with a flashing red light passes within 50–100 feet of an inbound commercial airliner at the George Bush Intercontinental Airport in Houston, Texas. No evasive action is taken, but the pilots notify air traffic control. (Tim McMillan, “‘We Are Going to Have a Catastrophic Incident’: Drone Incursions in Restricted Airspace Are Surging in 2025.” The Debrief, May 30, 2025)
- 2025, March — Morning. A black, roughly one-foot square drone reportedly passes within 5–7 feet of the front flight deck windows of a commercial cargo plane descending into Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport, Arizona. (Tim McMillan, “‘We Are Going to Have a Catastrophic Incident’: Drone Incursions in Restricted Airspace Are Surging in 2025.” The Debrief, May 30, 2025)
- 2025, March 1 — Near Gillespie Field in El Cajon, California, the pilot of a Cessna 172 is forced to take evasive action to avoid a potential midair collision with a drone. Tower personnel confirms the UAV is flying at 1,000 feet, approximately half a mile west of the airport. The drone begins trailing the Cessna, prompting authorities to suspend all air operations at Gillespie for more than 30 minutes. A San Diego County Sheriff’s Department helicopter is dispatched to investigate, but deputies cannot locate the drone. (Tim McMillan, “‘We Are Going to Have a Catastrophic Incident’: Drone Incursions in Restricted Airspace Are Surging in 2025.” The Debrief, May 30, 2025)

- 2025, March 7 — The European Commissioner for Defence and Space, Andrius Kubilius, responds to a European Parliamentary question by saying that the European Union Space Programme does not have as one of its objectives gathering “knowledge or documentation” about UAP. (“Answer Given by Mr. Kubilius on Behalf of the European Commission.” European Parliament, Parliamentary Question E-002972/2024(ASW), March 7, 2025)
- 2025, March 20 — European UFO organizations call for proposals to fully incorporate UAP issues into European security, defense, and space policies. Proposals include establishing a European mechanism for UAP data collection and analysis, integrating UAP into existing regulations and programs, funding research and innovation, and increased international cooperation. (Charles-Maxence Layet, “March 20, 2025: European UAP Day.” Center for UFO Studies, March 20, 2025)
- 2025, March 21 — Rep. Eric Burlison (R-Mo.) hires whistleblower David Grusch as a senior adviser on UAP matters. Rep. Tim Burchett (R-Tenn.) takes the opportunity to once again call for government transparency on UAP. (“UFO Whistleblower David Grusch Hired to Advise Rep. - 2025, April 8 — Enigma Labs launches a dedicated phone line, 1-833-SAW-A-UFO (1-833-729-2836), that users can call in to listen to the month’s top audio sighting and submit a lightweight version of their own sightings via voicemail. (“[1-833-Saw-a-UFO Is Live.” Enigma Labs, April 8, 2025)
- 2025, April 8 — Director of National Intelligence Tulsi Gabbard announces the recent establishment of a task force, called the Director’s Initiative Group, charged with restoring transparency and accountability to the intelligence community. The group has already reviewed documents for potential classification, including some related to the Havana syndrome, and released documents on the John F. Kennedy assassination. (“DNI Gabbard Establishes Task Force to Restore Trust in the Intelligence Community and End Weaponization of Government Against Americans.” Director of National Intelligence, April 8, 2025)
- 2025, April 9 — Researchers at Colorado State University and the Cooperative Institute for Research in the Atmosphere announce the compilation of a database of sightings of marine bioluminescence (“milky seas”) over the last 400 years. Described in the journal Earth and Space Science, the archive includes eyewitness reports from sailors, individual accounts submitted to the Marine Observer Journal over an 80-year period, and contemporary satellite data. This is the first such collection of data on milky seas in 30 years. (Justin Hudson and Steven D. Miller, “From Sailors to Satellites: A Curated Database of Bioluminescent Milky Seas Spanning 1600–Present,” Earth and Space Science 12, no. 4 (April 2025); Josh Rhoten, “With New Database, Researchers May Be Able to Predict Rare Milky Seas Bioluminescent Event,” Walter Scott Jr. College of Engineering, Colorado State University, April 9, 2025)

- 2025, April 18 — Rep. Anna Paulina Luna (R-Fla.) announces an upcoming SCIF briefing with UFO witnesses on April 29, a roundtable discussion involving experts and officials on April 30–May 1, and a full House Oversight Committee hearing on UAP during the week of May 12. (Christopher Sharp, “Representative Luna Announces House Oversight UFO Investigation, Leading to a Hearing in May,” Liberation Times, April 18, 2025; Keith Basterfield, “Task Force on the Declassification of Federal Secrets—UAP,” Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena—Scientific Research, April 20, 2025)
- 2025, April 19 — Team Glow, coordinated by Martin Chlebovský, is established in the Czech Republic to collect and analyze UFO sightings. It is a continuation of Project Glow, which ran from 1992 to 2022. (“‘Team Glow’ to Advance UFO Research in the Czech Republic,” UAP Check, April 19, 2025)
- 2025, April 24 — The US National Archives and Records Administration releases new records related to UAP. The files have been transferred to the National Archives from the Office of the Director of National Intelligence, the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Federal Aviation Administration, and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. (National Archives, “National Archives Releases UAP Records,” April 24, 2025)
- 2025, April 24 — Durham University Law School in the UK hosts an international symposium on “Putting the SEI and UAP Debate on Solid Footing: Law, Evidence, and Future Developments.” The event brings together experts from China, France, Germany, Sweden, the UK, and the US to discuss these matters from an interdisciplinary perspective. Law Professor Michael Bohlander presents the “Durham Declaration on SETI and UAP Research,” which encourages SETI and UAP studies as legitimate forms of academic research, that can be signed by interested researchers. (“Durham Declaration on SETI and UAP Research,” Durham University, April 24, 2025)
- 2025, April 24 — 9:00 p.m. Two witnesses observe a dark metallic, octahedron-shaped object near Granite High School in Porterville, California. The object, estimated to be 600–800 feet away and about the size of a UPS truck, flies silently and without lights, matching the vehicle’s speed (30–35 mph) while traveling parallel to it. When one of the witnesses points it out, the object instantly makes a sharp 90° turn and flies toward the city, disappearing after 10–15 seconds. The witness describes the craft as having markings or engravings—possibly resembling ancient hieroglyphics—visible due to moonlight. There are no windows, cockpit, or sound. (National UFO Reporting Center, “NUFORC UFO Sighting 188813,” April 10, 2025)
- 2025, April 29 — Journalists Jeremy Corbell and George Knapp release an interview with Matthew Brown, the Department of Defense whistleblower who released information in October 2024 about the secret Immaculate Constellation program to recover and reengineer alien technology. Brown tells Corbell and Knapp that before discovering documents confirming the existence of Immaculate Constellation, he had seen videos of UAP—captured by US platforms—on the Joint Worldwide Intelligence Communications System (a secure, secret network used by the US intelligence community to share sensitive information). He claims that the report detailing Immaculate Constellation was contained in a 2018 file on war plan briefings at Schriever Air Force Base in Colorado, identifying it as an unacknowledged Special Access Program established by Luis Elizondo in late 2017. The following page of the report, according to Brown, describes a “Pacific Ocean reconnaissance incident” at night off the coast of Kamchatka involving “several Russian naval reconnaissance vessels.” One slide contains a color photograph that shows “a large black triangle floating in the air” that appeared above the Russian ships. Brown says the image appears to have been taken “close to the water’s surface,” suggesting it may have been taken by a secret US underwater device. Brown states that he is talking about what he has seen through a sense of duty to the American people, although he could face “life imprisonment and the possibility of execution.” (“Immaculate Constellation—UFO Whistleblower Goes Public, Weaponized, Episode #74, Part 1,” Jeremy Corbell YouTube channel, April 29, 2025; Christopher Sharp, “Whistleblower Goes Public on ‘Immaculate Constellation’: Alleges Covert U.S. Program Monitoring UFOs,” Liberation Times, April 29, 2025)
- 2025, April 29 — The US House Oversight Committee’s Military and Foreign Affairs Subcommittee holds a hearing on unexplained drone incursions at US military installations. Subcommittee ranking member Suhas Subramanyam (D-Va.) says in an opening statement that “nearly a year and a half later, we still know very little about who was flying these drones over Langley, or what they were doing.” Vice Director for Operations on the Joint Staff Rear Adm. Paul Spedero Jr. tells lawmakers that a new operating procedure was sent by US Northern Command to military bases “within the last month,” and base officials are expected to follow it next time a drone appears. The procedure remains classified. Spedero appears to agree at least in part with a conclusion proposed by committee chairman Rep. William Timmons (R-S.C.) that the incursions are evidence of a “coordinated effort by our adversaries to collect valuable intelligence and surveillance of some of our most sensitive military equipment.” (“Securing the Skies: Addressing Unauthorized Drone Activity over U.S. Military Installations,” GOP Oversight YouTube channel, April 30, 2025; Matthew Cox, “Many US Bases Still Lack Sufficient Tech to Track Drone Incursions: DOD Officials,” Air and Space Forces, April 29, 2025; “Hearing Wrap Up: Swift Action Needed to Address Unauthorized Drone Activity over U.S. Military Installations,” House Committee on Oversight, April 30; Michael Marrow, “After Mysterious Incursions, NORTHCOM Updates Counter-drone Procedures,” Breaking Defense, April 30, 2025; Audrey Decker, “Pentagon Warns It’s Not Prepared for Homeland Drone Attack,” Defense One, April 30, 2025; Tim McMillan, “‘We Are Going to Have a Catastrophic Incident’: Drone Incursions in Restricted Airspace Are Surging in 2025,” The Debrief, May 30, 2025)

- 2025, May — The Sol Foundation publishes The UFO Enigma: A Call for US Government Disclosure as volume 2, number 2 of its policy papers, calling for passage of the UAP Disclosure Act. (Karl E. Nell, The UFO Enigma: A Call for US Government Disclosure, Sol Foundation, Spring 2025)
- 2025, May 1 — 11:30 a.m. The UAP Disclosure Fund briefs members of the House Committee on Oversight and Accountability in the Rayburn House Office Building. Moderated by Luis Elizondo, the panelists include Avi Loeb, Eric Davis, Timothy Gallaudet, Christopher Mellon, and Mike Gold. Elizondo presents to the lawmakers a photo he says was taken by a pilot that seemingly shows a huge disk-shaped UFO flying close to the ground and casting a large shadow in the Four Corners area; however, internet users quickly find out that the photo actually shows two irrigation circles. (“Understanding UAP: Science, National Security and Innovation \(House Oversight and Accountability\),” UAP Disclosure Fund YouTube channel, May 1, 2025; Brandi Vincent, “New UAP Legislation in the Works as Congress Prepares for More Hearings,” Defense Scoop, May 1, 2025; Lue Elizondo, X post, May 2, 2025; Brandi Vincent, “Former Defense Officials Raise Concerns about Unexplained Drone and UAP Threats to U.S. Airspace,” Defense Scoop, May 2, 2025; Jason Colavito, “Misinformation Abounds in a Busy Week for Government UFO Fantasies,” Jason Colavito, May 2, 2025; Avi Loeb, “The Afterglow of a UAP Congressional Briefing,” Medium: Avi Loeb, May 2, 2025; Tibi Puiu, “A Former Intelligence Officer Claimed This Photo Showed a Flying Saucer,” ZME Science, May 3, 2025; Chris Cuomo, “UAP Transparency Needed for Better Learning, Science: Ex-NASA Official,” NewsNation, May 6, 2025)
- 2025, May 13 — In the conclusion of an interview on the Weaponized podcast released today, former Department of Defense official Matthew Brown alleges to journalists Jeremy Corbell and George Knapp that unelected government bureaucrats probably connected to the CIA interfered with the Congressional hearing on UAP held on November 13, 2024, causing an introductory page, authored by Corbell, to Brown’s report to be stricken from the record and replaced with a blank page. The Hearing centered around a summary report authored by Brown, detailing the alleged Immaculate Constellation Unacknowledged Special Access Program (USAP) tasked with tracking advanced craft of both human and non-human origin. Brown states that UAP secrecy currently resides in “an illegal internationalist regime; some sort of international cabal of sorts, [a] mix of corporate, military, political, intelligence, and criminal interests that have come together.” (“Immaculate Constellation: A Whistleblower Honors His Oath: Weaponized: Episode #76: Part 3,” Jeremy Corbell YouTube channel, May 13, 2025; Christopher Sharp, “Unelected Officials Accused of Interfering with 2024 UFO Transparency Hearing,” Liberation Times, May 13, 2025)
- 2025, May 16 — Members of the Japanese “Parliamentary League for UAP Clarification from a Security Perspective” deliver a formal proposal to Defense Minister Gen Nakatani, urging the government to strengthen surveillance and data collection in response to recent incursions by drones and surveillance balloons, particularly those believed to originate from China. The proposal calls for the ministry to form a specialized division focused on three key tasks: collecting and analyzing UAP-related data, disclosing relevant findings to the public, and reporting investigation results regularly to the National Diet. (The Bipartisan UAP Diet Members’ League], Fuji News Network, May 16, 2025)
- 2025, May 25 — A new pattern-analysis study by the Scientific Coalition for UAP Studies indicates that UFO sightings between 1945 and 1975 show a clear shift toward nighttime activities, a focus on nuclear weapons sites, and displays that could be interpreted as a study of human behavior. (“Groundbreaking SCU Study Identifies the Evolving Patterns of Activity by Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena \(UAP\),” Scientific Coalition for UAP Studies, May 25, 2025)
- 2025, June 6 — Wall Street Journal reporters Joel Schectman and Aruna Viswanatha publish a report claiming that military UAP whistleblowers have been influenced by deliberate disinformation planted by the Pentagon to deflect attention from its classified weapons projects. The false stories include the To the Stars Academy’s metallic alloy, an alleged hazing ritual that involves showing newly appointed USAF commanders a supposedly real photo of a reengineered UFO as part of a mythical project called “Yankee Blue,” and a UFO photo displayed at a bar near Area 51 since the 1980s. The information probably comes from Part 2 of the AARO historical report, much of it authored by its former director Sean Kirkpatrick, and rumored to be nearly ready for release. Part 1 was released in March 2024. (Joel Schechtman and Aruna Viswanatha, “The Pentagon Disinformation That Fueled America’s UFO Mythology,” Wall Street Journal, June 6, 2025; Robert L. Salas, “America’s UFO Mythology’: A Rebuttal,” June 7, 2025; Baptiste Friscourt, “Wall Street Journal Backlash,” Sentinel News, June 13, 2025; Christopher Sharp, “From Moscow to Malmstrom: Russian-Style Disinformation Tactics Target U.S. UFO Transparency Efforts,” Liberation Times, June 29, 2025)

2025, June 6 — The Trump administration issues three executive orders that encourages the Federal Aviation Administration to expedite rules to allow companies to use drones beyond their operators’ line of sight, while also imposing restrictions meant to help protect against terrorism, espionage, and public safety threats. One order will allow state and local authorities to be trained to respond to unauthorized drones and expand the government’s ability to counter them. (“Trump’s New Drone Orders Aim to Counter Threats While Encouraging Flying Cars and Supersonic Flights,” The Hill, June 6, 2025)

2025, June 12 — Former AARO Deputy Director Timothy Phillips states in an interview with the New York Post that the agency is puzzled by fiery orbs and black, triangular-shaped UFOs. These cases include “unusual flight characteristics and performance anomalies that we don’t understand,” (“Bombshell: Pentagon Created Fake UFO Evidence, Promoted False Alien Stories,” New York Post YouTube channel, June 12, 2025; Christopher Sharp, “Former Pentagon Investigator Warns of UFOs with Characteristics ‘We Could Not Duplicate Today,” Liberation Times, June 12, 2025)

2025, June 16 — The Brazilian Air Force releases documents on 26 UFO sightings by military personnel in 2024. In two incidents, the UFOs disrupted the aircraft’s on-board electronics so that their position was visible on the collision avoidance system, even though they did not appear on the air traffic control radar. (Andrea Müller, “Brasiliens Luftwaffe veröffentlicht UFO-Sichtungen durch Piloten 2024,” grenzWissenschaft-aktuell.de, June 16, 2025)

2025, June 21 — The Wall Street Journal’s Joel Schechtman and Aruna Viswanatha continue their examination of the workings of AARO in the second part of a two-part exposé on a dubious alien artifact and rumors of retrievals. (Joel Schechtman and Aruna Viswanatha, “Was It Scrap Metal or an Alien Spacecraft? The Army Asked an Elite Defense Lab to Investigate,” Wall Street Journal, June 21, 2025; Baptiste Friscourt, “WSJ: AARO Fails to Recover Direct Evidence of UFOs from a Safe,” Sentinel News, June 22, 2026)
