

DRACO-REPTILIANS

[I CAN NEITHER CONFIRM NOR DENY THIS INTEL]

The Draconian Reptilians are described as inter-dimensional extraterrestrial humanoid beings, who are believed to be the most ancient race in the universe, next to the Lyrans, and were a part of the Anunnaki civilization and even the Anunnaki group known as the Igigi. This article will take you into the PURPORTED culture and everyday life of Reptilian-Draconians, drawing on recent discoveries and close encounters. Reptilians are purported to be extraterrestrial entities capable of shape-shifting into humanoid reptilian forms. Often characterized as possessing advanced intelligence and technology, they are said to exert influence over human affairs, including manipulating governments and impacting global events throughout the entire cosmos. Draconian Reptilians are purported to be inter-dimensional extraterrestrial beings and are falsely purported to be the most ancient race of beings in the entire universe. This is noted in recent CIA-released UFO documents by the Freedom of Information Act. The Reptilian Draconian empires and societies live in the constellation of Draco, with their main systems called Alpha, Epsilon, and Sigma.

There are purportedly seven different ancient Reptilian species in the Draconis constellation's star systems, but three main reptoid races, including the Alpha Draconians, are the most known and feared. They have been permanently on Terra, also known as Earth, for over 15 thousand years and sporadically for much longer, going back millions of years.

Archaeological evidence has recently surfaced in modern-day Iraq, revealing small statuettes of lizard people. Radiocarbon dating places their origin approximately 50,000 years ago. This evidence is corroborated by the African Dogon tribe and the Aboriginal melanated Australians.

Declassified documents also indicate that Saddam Hussein discovered a stargate portal and advanced alien weaponry adorned with winged serpent symbolism, the emblem of the Reptilian Empire. They have colonized over 500 planets by means of infiltration through governments and other leadership positions and have a presence on thousands of planets. Their three home worlds are Thuban-Anwar, the Alpha-Draconian Empire's main and most ancient home world, Tiphon Giansar located in Sigma, and Grumium Eltanin located in Epsilon Draconis.

Many reptiloid species, like the Ciakahrr, Nagai, and Mazarek, for instance, purportedly feed off an etheric substance as well as flesh and blood. They feed off all mammal species and consume live flesh and blood, and both sources of nourishment are, in fact, intrinsically linked. It is easy to understand when you consider that flesh and blood have low etheric frequency, especially when imbued with the vibration of fear and pain experienced at death.

This is also another reason why Reptilian invaders are purported to work at hidden agendas to maintain a certain level of grief, starvation, destruction, and despair. There is also a very strong reason why they do not want to let go of their ownership of Earth, also known as Terra--Adrenochrome; a substance produced on Earth by children submitted to extreme pain and fear, and more valuable to Reptilians than anything else in the universe. This highly prized drug, excreted from the human body through a needle, which is placed in the left eye or the spine vertebra, gives them a "kick"; it helps their body cells regenerate and also benefits in the shapeshifting process, which lasts longer. This is the main reason why Terran Earth abductees are trafficked by extraterrestrial beings, Reptilians disguised as organized crime societies such as corrupt governments and cartels. This is the main reason why Earth abductees never return, especially children being used as food or slaves.

They also purported to abduct female human beings on a large scale to create hybrid offspring to be sent away to other colonized planets, or otherwise, these offspring become powerful members infiltrated in the main leading societies. Here are the currently recorded various species of Reptilians.

Alpha-Draconians of Ciakahrr, these Reptilian beings are the master ancient race of all Reptilian humanoids. They originate from the Thuban star system, or Alpha Draconis, which is 215 light-years from Earth. They are sapient Reptoids who were dumped here by another vastly superior Reptilian race, the Tiamaatian, from another dimension. Their original home worlds are named Lokas and Talas, and the points of entry into our known universe were through inter-dimensional portals in the zone of the Thuban and Alwaid systems. Alpha-Draconians name themselves "Ciakahrr" and are considered by their technological advancement in warfare as a master Reptilian race. They are also named Dracos or Dracs. Their bodies possess consequent armored scale coverage to protect their skin from attacks. While the upper cast has wings, allowing them to travel fast. Quite tall creatures, they are heavily muscled and covered in scales. They vary in color, but their hues are very heavily melanated, which makes their safari desert home worlds the perfect environment. This is known as the most violent, tyrannical war-mongering race out of all the Reptilians. It is also key to know the way to tell a Ciakahrr is by their having wings and stronger upper and lower bodies.

However, through the mass expansion of cosmic history, there are countless Draco Reptilians who left their home worlds and Draconian culture over millennia, saw more peaceful, higher vibrational ways of life, and joined the Galactic Federation of Worlds to fight the Reptilian Empire. The most popular Reptilian Draconian known throughout the cosmos was Tiamat, the Draconian dragon queen of Orion. She was a Reptilian princess who first saved a group of Lyran race humanoid beings from the Dracos' takeover of Avyon.

Later, it is purported, she was gifted a planet, and that planet would one day become Earth, or what other extraterrestrials call Terra. Evidence of this can be found in the Enuma Elish. She then birthed a unique hybrid race of beings known as the Annunaki royals of Nibiru. These half-Lyran and half-Reptilian beings would purportedly genetically modify and mix their DNA with proto-humans millions of years ago.

The Ciakahrr Empire and the ruling elite see Earth and Earthlings as a source of nourishment, for trade and slavery, so they do not particularly have patience or love for humans. Although it is often believed that their warrior race is not intelligent, the Draconians make an exception to this rule. They are expert geneticists and have engineered and modified many biological species that we know today, including the short gray aliens, who are technically cloned, non-biological lifeforms, unable to procreate. For thousands of years, the race of gray aliens was cloned and engineered by the Reptilians and became slaves to the Ciakahrr. Reptilian Draconians possess either three or five long-clawed fingers with an opposable thumb with talons on the ends, a large inferior jaw, holes for ears, and large eyes. Their genitalia are hidden by a skin flap. They wear very little clothing except for extra armor and are often seen with a belt-mounted invisibility device. They are cold-blooded and need an adequate environment to maintain their body moisture and temperature. Nonetheless, their scales protect them from moisture loss and are larger and thicker on their back. They are also fitted for space travel due to their ability to hibernate. Most... not all... are purported to have technological powers, such as shapeshifting, telepathy, inter-dimensional traveling, and lastly cloaking, which is purportedly for high-rank Draconians. They are differentiated into two main types: the inner-Earth Draconians and the off-world Draconians. The Terra Draconians predate Earthlings by hundreds of millions of years. Like other Reptilians, they claim to have originated on Earth millions of years ago; they use this to justify their attempt to retake this planet for their own. The truth is that they found it before any other extraterrestrials and disputed its ownership with the Lyrans, Selosi, claiming it as theirs. Any other new visiting race was considered by them as invasive. Because of their ability for inter-dimensional travel, the Galactic Federation of Worlds has purportedly locked the Earth Draconian Empire into the 3rd-dimensional plane and also blocked the off-world Draconians from penetrating the Earth star system, by an energy barrier at the outskirts of the solar system. Ciakahrr were one of the first species to reach interstellar travel level, and they have obstructed the evolution of many cultures, preventing them from achieving the same level of technology. They also seeded many worlds with their biological offspring and hybrids, considering themselves as the original rulers of controlled worlds, and superior to the indigenous species they see as inferior races. They are also interested in harvesting Earth's resources, utilizing the local populations to do the job for them.

This is done by hidden control of the media, financial corporations, and industrial companies. Humans are confronted with a belligerent inner-Earth civilization that breeds from eggs boosted by hormones, quickening birth, and creating strong warriors, who can live underground and in the most remote and hostile parts of our planet. They are attempting to take over the planet in what is considered the window of opportunity. Which is the period before a public, federated society became an interplanetary and interstellar power, and Earth humanity is now beginning to close!

The problem is that the Galactic Federation of Worlds won't give Earth's civilian, non-military humanity, the technology of interstellar travel because Earth's human civilization is not yet federated as a peaceful society. You need to grow our public technology industries and mature to reach this luminal threshold in evolution. A Type One Civilization. Disclosure-minded humanity is doing its best in many capacities to hasten civilian humanity getting there as quickly as possible. On the other side, all these invasive races, such as Greys, Reptilians, are at the moment working very hard to maintain this status quo by retaining advanced technology from the Earth's non-military public global population by private treaty with the U.S. military and other global militaries, entertaining confusion, conflicts, and wars. The Draconian Empire's biggest fear is that civilian Earthlings will reach interstellar travel, which will make humans a bigger threat to Reptilians. The Draconian Empire does not want this to happen. Their ships have wide-range variations, often discoidal, but there is a constant movement with the Empire's mother ships (which are purportedly huge and long rectangular vessels. As the Reptilians expanded their reach throughout the cosmos, they were feared greatly by many, and the negative ideologies of race began. There were civilizations that would not accept Reptilian Draconian refugees, even if they were females or children, they were always detected right off by their dark, scaly appearance. They had left the self-service grip of the Ciakhrr Empire, but were treated with every prejudice, especially in the Pleiadian star system. Nibiru was the planet purportedly designated for the dark black and albino Reptilian refugees, and later all refugees of various civilizations in the Orion and Sirius Constellations.

Their language sounds like rolling atonal guttural vocalizations, growls, and clicking noises, quite loud and uncomfortable to hear, partially the reason why their telepathic abilities are so well refined. Reptilians are into the arts and competitive sports. They are known to be the greatest musicians and entertainers, having a deep spiritual understanding of high and low frequency levels. This is why the Draconians were known to use sound waves and frequency weapons to their advantage in many wars and hostile takeovers. The warriors rarely speak, communicating with their superiors non-vocally. They call themselves "K' Akumaa," which means "individual," when addressing each other. They call Earth "Shan," and Earthlings "Shanai." Reptilian Draconians are allied with many groups of other species who share their agenda on conquest and dominion.

The Maytrei and Kiily-Tokurit are Reptilian allies who share in the dominion and conquest of Earth. The Ciakar Draconian royalty and elite royals are scaled individuals with dark brown, beige, green, and black. They measure about 18 to 25 feet tall and weigh 1900 pounds. They have curved horns, a tail, and wings, which are flaps of skin articulated by extensions of their ribs and can be folded back tightly to the body. They have large golden-red to blue eyes, with vertical slit pupils. Because of their size and psychic ability, Ciakahrr royals were mistaken for mythical legendary dragons by Earthlings. They are known to have the symbol of the Winged Serpent. This Winged Serpent symbol was also worn by the Annunaki royals Ningishzidda, Enki, and Marduk once they sided with the elites. They thrive on inducing fear frequencies in their subjects, preying especially on the youngest subjects for food, notably Earth children, to feed upon as a delicacy. Earth children are subject to intense vibrations of fear, which produce a substance the Ciakahrr are particularly fond of. Some Ciakahrr can also see across or move to other planets interdimensionally and become public figures where they use divide-and-conquer tactics and dark sexual energy methods. The Draconian men are alpha of alphas; they are all muscular, athletic, strong-willed, and they socialize hierarchies by the strongest warriors, all the way to intelligencers. Draconians are extremely fast and strong; they compete in their own sports and love competition. Many of the Draconian women are as strong-willed as the alpha men; they believe in manifest destiny and practice various levels of cosmic necromancy witchcraft, which utilizes frequencies of sound and connects them to the source. This is how the Annunaki royals used supernatural curses on Egyptian tombs of the pharaohs in ancient Egypt.

The Nagai/Nagari are a warrior subspecies. They are short, thick, very muscular, and have no wings. They are aggressive, violent, and feared throughout the galaxy for their renowned aptitude for combat. Their skin is scaled, and they stand 7 to 8 feet tall. They thirst for blood, and their eyes are yellow. The symbol of their race is Ouroboros. The lower caste of Reptilians is the small 4 to 12 feet tall Draconians. They are considerably weaker than the Ciakahrr and have been taken down by certain ancient human warriors in the past. Their stories are found in legends and myths; however, events of man fighting dragons are real, except these dragons were extraterrestrials. Draconians allied with the Draco agenda use shapeshifting methods on Earth not only to blend in with people but to masquerade as kind, average individuals, then they deceive, abduct, and traffic Earthlings. The Draco

Empire also mines mono-atomic gold with the aid of human abductees alongside other enslaved species from other planets.

The Nhorri, are a hybrid subspecies of peaceful Reptilian Draconians, and are the creators and engineers of sound frequency and music are. They are unique and kind and carry technological flutes and different instruments. The Reptilian hybrid programs have an interest in human DNA, as they have been involved with it since even before the Annunaki royals of Nibiru arrived. This is why it is widely known that all Earth humans are the most unique species in the cosmos for possessing ancient Reptilian and Lyrans extraterrestrial DNA in their blood, alongside many other alien DNA. They have a passion for manipulating DNA, including that of their own hybrids and enslaved clones known as the Greys. They have 800 thousand underground tunnels on Earth, with two massive underground cities. In the early reigns of the Ciakarr Royal lines, King Sauron, the leader of the Draco Ciakhrr Empire, engineered a technology known as soul scape. He conducted despicable procedures and perfected a horrendous supernatural technological device. Over time, the Ciakhrr perfected a technique of ripping a person's soul out of the body and disposing of it into a container. Trapped within this peculiar pod, the soul will live and experience life through an illusory matrix. No one can kill a soul; all souls are immortal. However, the Empire and King Sauron, the spawn king of Reptilians, realized that for their biggest threats to their dominion, they could at least find a way to extract the soul and trap it. The bodies of the souls are then used for A.I. experimentation and soul replacements on Earth. Many powerful public figures affiliated with secret societies on Earth are known to have been soul-scaped and replaced by Ciakahrr entities to assist and position themselves over corporations, banking systems, powerful industries, celebrities, and governments.

They are considered a technologically advanced species but prefer to work in the shadows when colonizing large groups of civilizations, as an advantage for their own agendas. Reptilians from the Draconian systems are known for having a very particular routine to invade worlds. They will send enslaved inferior races for first contact, such as Zeta Do-Hu or Solipsi Rai, to disguise the invasion. Indigenous populations will be made to believe that harmless and apparently genuine visitors need help and assistance in their genetic project to save their dying race. Leaders will be promised wealth, weapons, and technology in exchange, and when all treaties are signed by the governments of the planet, the Draconian Ciakarr Empire shows up as the true governors of the planet. Once you partner with the Draconian Empire and have inferior technology and a broken civilization, the planet stands no chance unless intervention by the Galactic Federation of Worlds, which is still a challenge to withstand the forces of the Reptilian and Orion alliances and empires.

Their usual method of colonizing an inhabited world is to first build an initial base of operations underground, contact the inhabitants, and then expand progressively, traversing the planet with a web of tunnels. Invader races on Earth have interrelated agreements between them, as well as with the U.S. government and their security. Draconians have composed the secret pyramidal summit of the military-industrial extraterrestrial complex controlling all information related to alien presence. They control human elites, media, corporations, institutions, and financial systems, which stimulate poverty, war, and fear, encouraging corruption, terrorism, drug cartels, and sex trade, alongside all other organized crime around the entire planet. Reptilian Draconians have technology and allies on the moon above Earth, which is not an actual moon but an engineered one. It is important to know that this information is no longer speculative, though mainstream scholars and skeptics dismiss Reptilian existence as pseudoscience. Archeological evidence, ancient texts, close encounters, and released FBI AND CIA documents CONFIRM the Reptilian reality. The once non-belief of inter-dimensional extraterrestrials has changed, and for the first time since the beginning of mankind, we are questioning OUR very reality. We must relay that Reptilian Draconians are a real species and should not all be judged as evil or bad; the Ciakahrr Empire is the true enemy. All extraterrestrials, like humans, can display characteristics of good or evil. Many of the peaceful Reptilian Draconian refugees live in off-grid worlds and have also integrated and interbred with thousands of other species, including humans.
