NAMES TO KNOW

♥ SHUTING QIU, 25

FROM: Hangzhou
HER FAVOURITE THING ABOUT INDIA: The way people dress up
ON HER INDIA-INSPIRED COLLECTION: The handicrafts, embroidery and bright, natural colour palates of India are endlessly inspiring. I also love the way the locals dress.

♥ SNOB (SON OF A NOBLE)

Bangalore-based entrepreneur Mani Shanker Singh brings us a label with edge. His latest collection pays homage to the exploding skateboard culture in his city and captures the essence of counterculture freedom that skateboarding represents.

VIRSHETE

♥ VIRSHETÉ

London College of Fashion graduate Vir Shete's namesake label is all colour, exaggerated shapes and risqué cuts. Drawing inspiration from his time in Japan, the debut collection of the designer, who toys with gender in his personal style, is a collection of sexy dresses and powerful separates.

PETER DO

♥ PETER DO

New-York based Peter Do's fashion education took place in the ateliers of Phoebe Philo and Derek Lam—he is no stranger to the world of clean-cut, masterfully made clothes. The 2014 LVMH graduate prize awardee's inaugural spring/summer 2019 collection comprised feminine and unfussy garments that have found favour among Gen-Z stars like Zendaya.

♥ BOOK CLUB

Tuck into Perfect Tunes by Emily Gould (Simon & Schuster), a heart-warming tale on motherhood, music and the imperfections of life as we know it.

♥ KITCHEN CAPERS

Coop yourself up indoors with this bake-at-home nacho kit. The set includes the cookbook iBuenos Nachos! for inspiration, a cheese grater and a baking blanket. Wandpdesign.com

WATCH

After Life, Ricky Gervais's wry comedy, which returns for season two on Netflix, is perfect company for a life being temporarily spent in isolation.

EAT

Tame those munchies with The Sprout Book (St. Martin's Essentials) and learn how to cook and grow one of the most nutritious ingredients in the world.

♥ DRINK UP

Bugatti's latest release is arm candy for the sustainable world. Launched at Ambiente Frankfurt, these reusable stainless steel bottles, available in multiple colours and finishes, function as a thermal bottle. They also come with add-on accessories like an infusion kit and a sports lid.
