

★ StarTribune
TOKYO OLYMPICS

FRIDAY, JULY 30, 2021 • SECTION C

American dream

Some will think of Mary Lou Retton, the first. Some will think of Simone Biles, the greatest. And now some will think of Suni Lee, who on Thursday became St. Paul's most famous teenager and America's latest Olympic hero by winning the all-around gold medal in women's gymnastics. How did she do it? "I just went out there," she said, "and did what I do best."

Photo by TIM CLAYTON • Corbis via Getty Images