

mifold One

Objective: Take the existing mifold product and create a non-foldable version using as many similar parts as possible to reduce cost.

The opposite page shows the variations that were designed based on the objective. The emphasis was trying to create a family range of products that had a common theme and style.

