

Wing-sockets and blades, landing-gear and doors are rigged for animation. Material details such as weathering, dust and edge-wear are procedurally-generated in order to be rendered in-camera for easier compositing and animation.

