

Technical Soft Goods Workshop

After five years into my career at Fossil Group, I craved a creative outlet. I discovered a workshop with a company called The Brown Buffalo in California. This soft goods company offered classes to learn more about designing and executing bags.