Operations management, today

Highly inefficient

Innovaptive believes in a better way

Industry 4.0 enabled machines to talk to each other

Sensors + Devices + Systems + Processes

A woman wearing a white hard hat and a dark blue shirt is looking at a smartphone in her hands. She is in a factory or industrial setting, with blurred machinery and lights in the background. The image has a blue tint.

INDUSTRY 5.0

Innovapptive drives the next paradigm shift

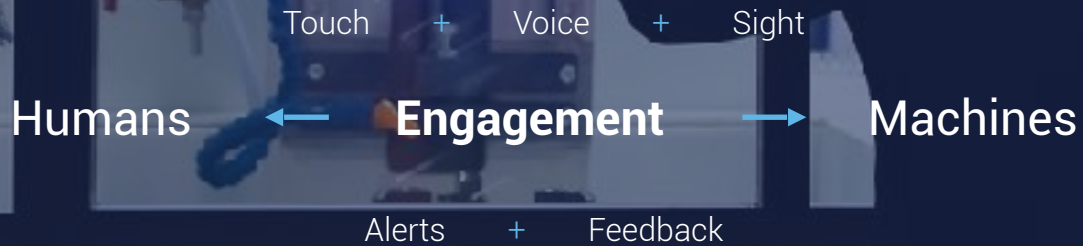

Industry 5.0 will enable humans to talk to machines

Intuitively + Instantaneously + Informed + Intelligently

CONVERSATIONAL OPERATIONS

Out in the field

User opens app and asks to see tasks for the day

App lists all tasks, locations, parts available for each task, route, and time estimated for each task

User at task finishes early because parts were available

Next task has 2 parts missing and he's alerted so he re-routes to next task

CONVERSATIONAL OPERATIONS

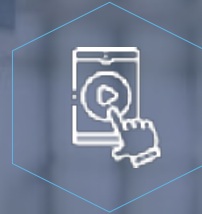

On the shop floor

User uses app to start a function

He sees three alerts to be taken care of before the function can be executed

She asks to see the alert video

She learns in real-time and executes safely

At the point of service

User at a task notices another service point coming up next week

He checks for parts and sees them available. He calls into the app to order them

He orders from warehouse, repairs, makes note and moves on, saving time and increasing productivity

In the warehouse

User sees orders for the day, week, month, quarter at a glance

Talks with procurement office and works out all purchase orders

Procurement makes orders based on working capital optimization

At the back office

Executive sees dashboard of people, performance, parts, processes

Uses touch feedback to drill insights and share intelligence with leadership
